Crews Fight Hurricane's Health Peril

Safety Officials Try To Stop Further Loss In New England Area

BOSTON (AP) — Repair crews and public health experts worked feverishly today to avert further perils to health and safety as the aftermaths of Hurricane Carol, which gave New England a multi-million-dollar battering Tuesday.

Other workers and volunteers searched for missing persons, many of them children.

Fifty-four persons were known to have been killed.

Nineteen were listed as missing, including a 10-month-old baby girl swept from the arms of her mother, Mrs. Robert M. Crosby, 25, of Brockton, Mass.

Mrs. Crosby said her baby, Sharon Eleanor, was torn from her arms as she tried to escape from the wind-buckled cottage on Onset Island, Mass.

No trace was found of the boy up to early today. Nor was there any trace of the three Winick children, Ponga, 7, Elisa, 5, and Neal, 2, who are feared drowned in Falmouth.

Their mother, Mrs. Martha Winick, 33, and her sister, Judge Golda R. Walters, 46, of the Ayer District Court, perished when their cottage was swept into Great Pond. Their bodies were found on the beach.

Fully one third of New England was reported without electrical power early today, posing a mammoth health problem since an estimated 3½ million persons had no means of refrigeration for foods.

ORPHANED BY THE DEATH of their father in 1924, four brothers and sisters are reunited for the first time in 30 years (right) in the Philadelphia home of Mrs. Gertrude Masi (second from right). The others are Charles Morgan, Elmer, N.J.; John Morgan, Flemington, N.J., and Mrs. Emma Holzhauser, Dunellen, N.J.. At left is a snapshot taken of the same group when they were last together. At top are John and Gertrude and, at bottom, Charles and Emma. They plan to get together annually.

Censure Probers Base Study on Transcript Of Previous Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators looking into the question of whether Sen. McCarthy should be censured today dug into the charge that the Wisconsin senator has encouraged government employes to slip him official secrets.

This meshed the new inquiry directly into the recent McCarthy-Army hearings, and the result was a round of polite sparring with McCarthy's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams.

Use Previous Transcript

Part of the transcript from the old hearings was read into the record by E. Wallace Chadwick, committee counsel, including McCarthy's own statement that he had instructed a vast number of federal employes "that they were duty-bound to give me information even though some little bureaucrat had stamped it secret to protect himself."

Also into the record went a quote from McCarthy that the oath every government employe takes to protect and defend his country "towers far above any presidential secrecy directive. And I will continue to receive information such as I received the other day."

Williams took exception to this last passage as not presenting the full picture and being "almost out of context."

Presses Bias Issue

McCarthy himself wasn't in the room at the time. Outside the hearing, the Wisconsin senator was still seeking to make an issue of what personal views of him are held by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo).

In an interview with reporters, which was filmed for later TV showing, McCarthy said Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) had ruled in effect that it was all right if members of the special committee investigating his conduct were not impartial.

On each of the first two days of the hearing, McCarthy unsuccessfully demanded that the committee direct that Sen. Johnson, its vice chairman, say whether he

Galion Youth Loses Life in Morrow Crash

Dale W. Smith, 16, Pinned Under Auto; One Companion Hurt

Dale W. Smith, 16, of Galion, died shortly after he was taken to Galion City Hospital yesterday of injuries received about 3:35 p.m. when the car he was driving overturned in a ditch along a township road in Morrow County.

State highway patrolmen from the Marion post said the car, which was owned by a passenger, Dale Garverick, 16, of near Galion, skidded off the left side of a gravel township road four and one-half miles north of Mount Gilead and one and two-tenths miles east of State Route 61. The vehicle overturned, pinning Smith beneath it.

Suffers Forehead Injury

Garverick suffered a severely bruised forehead, but did not require treatment. Another passenger, Phillip Turner, 15, of Galion escaped injury.

Crawford County Coroner B. P. Mansfield said the Smith youth died of a crushed chest, internal injuries and a fractured spine. He was taken to the Galion hospital in a Craven ambulance from Mount Gilead.

Smith lived in Galion with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stroup of 141 N Pierce St.

The body was taken to the Snyder Funeral Home in Galion.

Funeral services will be conducted at the funeral home at 3 p.m. Saturday, with the Rev. Norman Somerville, pastor of First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. today.

Born in Honolulu

The youth was born March 13, 1938, in Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, a son of Roy L. and Catherine Covolko Smith. His mother died in 1944.

Survivors include his father who resides in Dugger, Ind., the sister in Galion with whom he resided, and two other sisters, Mrs. William Wharton of Mansfield, and Mrs. Earl Tidd of Dugger, Ind., and three brothers, Roy L. Smith Jr. of Galion, Dan W. Smith of Aberdeen, Md., and Dean S. Smith, in service in Japan.

The Red Cross is attempting to reach the brother in Japan.

The firms and the pay increases granted were Baldwin Rubber Co., 6½ cents; Richardson Co., 6 to 9 cents; Seiberling Rubber Co., 6½ cents; and Mohawk Rubber Co., 6 cents.

Billy Graham Revival Vetoed in Phenix City

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—The National Guard commander in this vice-ridden city, now under martial law, has turned thumbs down on a "sin-killing" Billy Graham revival.

Graham had been urged to come here by the Phenix City Ministerial Alliance.

Adj. Gen. Walter J. Hanna of the National Guard told the ministers that crowds attracted by a Graham revival might disrupt the cleanup campaign under way here. He estimated 200 policemen would be needed to handle traffic alone.

Ford Will Sell Family Stock to Better Position

DETROIT (AP)—A spokesman for the Ford Motor Co. last night said speculation by Fortune magazine that Ford soon would offer its family-owned stock for public sale was "a pretty reliable story."

The Fortune story said the multi-billion-dollar auto firm will sell the stock to the public in an attempt to gain financial strength and nose out General Motors Corp. for leadership in production and sales in the industry.

The spokesman, who declined identification, said he had been told neither to deny nor confirm that the company was planning the move. "The Fortune article is just speculation," he said, "and not too bad at that."

In a similar story, the Detroit Free Press said it learned preliminary steps leading to the sale of stock in the future already had been taken.

Pachuco Called Youthful Mark Of Hoodlumism

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The tattooed mark of the Pachuco has swept across the nation as a symbol of modern-day youthful hoodlumism.

Its common form is a cross with a sort of halo of dots, made with a pin or knife and ink on the web between the thumb and forefinger, or on the arm or chest. It puzzles and worries civil and military authorities in many areas, but in Los Angeles it is old stuff, considered virtually passe.

Is it smart-aleck feeding of the young ego, naive copy-cat activity or a sinister secret terrorist organization?

A Los Angeles authority, Police Lt. Richard D. Whitley of the juvenile detail and former commander of the gang detail established in 1948, said today he has no evidence of any national organization of Pachucos.

On the contrary, he said, the youthful gangs of this and other large cities in which there may be Pachuco members have no formal organization; no officers, dues, bylaws or rules. The fellow who is the toughest and talks the best is the leader; the "organization" is confined to tight geographical or neighborhood boundaries.

The Pachuco tattoo has appeared recently on 30 airmen at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.; in Kansas City; in Des Moines, Iowa, where police called it "juvenile copy-cat

Paul F. Swank, Veteran Ohio Newsman, Dies

Auto Mishap Fatal To Associated Press Editor, Ex-Marionite

Paul F. Swank, 62, veteran Associated Press newsman, and former Marionite, died in University Hospital in Columbus last night of injuries received in an automobile accident. He lost control of his car while driving to work Wednesday morning.

Swank, who had reported some of the state's biggest news stories during his 37 years of newspaper work, had been a member of The Associated Press staff since 1921. He first worked for the AP in Columbus, was transferred to Cincinnati and later went to Cleveland, where he headed the AP bureau. He returned to Columbus in 1940.

After graduating from Van Wert High School in 1912, he entered Ohio Wesleyan University. After three years there he took a job as a reporter on The Van Wert Times.

In 1917 he went to The Marion Star, then under the active management of Sen. Warren G. Harding.

As telegraph editor of The Marion Tribune in 1920 he covered the Harding "front porch" campaign for the presidency.

This was during the time his father, Rev. Jesse Swank, was pastor of Epworth Methodist Church in Marion. Rev. Swank served the congregation here from 1915 until 1925.

During his tenure as head of the Cleveland bureau, Swank worked on that city's biggest disaster, the Crile Clinic explosion in May 1929, in which 125 persons were killed by poison gas loosed from burning photographic film.

A Methodist, Swank was a prom-

Man Holds Up Hubbard Bank

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state highway patrol headquarters said it had received a report of a robbery at the Dollar Savings and Trust Co. bank in Hubbard, Trumbull County, at 11:15 a.m. today.

The patrol said it was told one man, wearing a railroad cap, had robbed the bank, making his escape in a green 1947 or 1948 sedan bearing license No. G-87-E.

The getaway car went north on Ohio 7 and 62, the patrol said.

Gale-Ravaged Areas Will Get Federal Relief

FRASER, Colo. (AP) — President Eisenhower today designated hurricane-hit regions of Massachusetts and Rhode Island as major disaster areas eligible for federal aid.

From his vacation headquarters here the President sent telegrams to Gov. Dennis J. Roberts of Rhode Island and Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts, notifying them of his action.

Eisenhower told both men he is "deeply sympathetic to the hardships and suffering caused to the people" of both states "in this tragic situation."

Hurricane 'Dolly' Picking Up Speed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hurricane Dolly picked up a little speed early today and headed toward the southeast tip of Newfoundland, well away from New England, which still is cleaning up after receiving the full force of Hurricane Carol.

The Weather Bureau's 5 a.m., EST, report on the fourth hurricane of the season said it was about 485 miles east of Atlantic City, N.J., and moving northeastward abont 35 to 40 miles an hour.

A Weather Bureau observer said continued movement in a northeasterly direction would take it into the Grand Banks. He said transatlantic shipping was in for trouble.

County Youth Wins Honors at Ohio State Fair

A Marion County FFA member copped several honors in the Holstein show held at the Ohio State Fair Wednesday.

Stanley Lawrence, of the Claridon FFA Chapter won honors for having the champion Holstein cow in the FFA contest.

Judge George Harris said the show was the best ever presented by the FFA and the winning cow was one of the best he had encountered. Lawrence won the honors with his aged cow.

He also had the champion two-year-old heifer, and received a B grade for his Holstein heifer calf. In the showmanship contest held after the judging, Lawrence placed fourth.

In the FFA market hog class, Richard Gix of Prospect received an A grade and placed seventh in the state. Fred Isler of Prospect also received an A grade, but did not place among the top 10.

Isler and Gix also received A grades in the pen of three class, as did Arthur Ruth of the Waldo FFA. Bill Hedges of Prospect FFA received a B grade in the pen of three competition.

Ruth was selected to receive a merit award, one of five given at the fair in the market hog showmanship competition.

Legion Warns Against Atomic Weapons Ban

Resolution Opposes Any Agreement With Russians at Present

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Legion voted today to fight vigorously against any move to bar the use of atomic weapons or to come to any agreement with the Russians on atomic matters at this time.

At the same time, Legionnaires winding up their 36th annual convention called on the nation to build up its air strength—particularly its air arm—and get going at once on an effective and expanded civil defense program.

Election Scheduled

Today was resolution adoption and election day with the delegates from all over the country working up stream for their annual battle over the choice of national officers.

The Legionnaires also heard a speech by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. representative to the United Nations, in which Lodge said he has proof of Chinese Communist attempts to conquer all Asia."

Adopting a series of resolutions and policy statements, unanimously, the Legion:

1. Called for adoption of a Universal Military Training law that would guarantee at least 16 weeks of military training for all young Americans. Some Legionnaires said they wanted to make the guarantee six months long.

2. Saluted the U.S. Navy for its recent "vigilant and decisive" action in shooting down two Red Chinese planes in the Pacific when the communists sought to turn back U.S. planes searching for survivors of a British passenger plane that had been shot down.

Hear Reuther

CIO President Walter Reuther told the delegates "there is no bargain basement answer to adequate defense" and said his labor organization is "greatly disturbed by the apparent tendency of placing budgetary considerations ahead of security needs."

Lodge said admitting Red China to the U.N. "would be an insult to the entire principle of collective security."

The ambassador spoke to weary delegates, on the final day of their 36th annual convention, as they struggled through a business logjam, dominated by anticommunist resolutions and including several strongly opposing U.N. member-

Hoover Irked At Invasion of Ike's Privacy

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—If President Eisenhower is irritated about all the attention his trout fishing attracts, he has former President Hoover in his corner.

Hoover made that clear here yesterday in declaring—with something more than a trace of irritation—that "one of the degenerations of the last 30 years" is that a president of the United States no longer has any privacy when he goes fishing.

Hoover has been Eisenhower's trout fishing guest at a Rocky Mountain ranch since Tuesday. They plan to pack their rods and fly lures and start back to Denver today.

The President will headquarter there again at the Summer White House at Lowry Air Force Base. Hoover arranged to fly back to New York in the evening. He will travel aboard Eisenhower's private plane, the Columbine.

Hoover's remarks about the President's privacy came when a score or more of newsmen went out to the ranch—at Eisenhower's invitation—to watch the chief executive sign into law legislation broadening social security cover-

Army Breaks Reds' Spy Ring In Philippines

Leader Under Arrest; Conspiracy To Wreck Asian Parley Charged

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines Army announced tonight it has broken a "sinister Communist espionage ring" trying to sabotage the Southeast Asia Security conference opening here Monday.

The army said Dr. Hong Ki Khung, alias Kyung Ki Chang, 35-year-old Korean national, is under arrest in connection with the plot.

The doctor had "voluminous papers pertaining to mechanics and organizational procedures of the forthcoming Seato conference including drafts of various proposals of participating nations . . ." the army said.

The announcement added intelligence agents of three governments have established that the doctor is "a member of a gigantic international espionage ring organized specifically to spy on the forthcoming top level talks . . ."

The arrest came as the Philippines sought action by working committees on a "Pacific Charter" against Communist aggression.

President Ramon Magsaysay said he will seek adoption by the conference opening here Monday of a four-point charter pledging the eight nations to:

1. Support the rights of all peoples in Southeast Asia to freedom and independence.

2. Take steps insuring the progress of Southeast Asian nations toward self-rule and independence.

3. Work jointly for economic, social and cultural development of Southeast Asian countries to raise standards of living and to strengthen their economies and social se-

Salesman Known Here Missing on Flight Over Mexico

A magazine representative widely known by Marion city school personnel has been reported missing on an airplane flight in South America.

Neil Huntzinger of Ravenna, a Crowell - Colliers Publishing Co. representative, has been missing since Aug. 18 when he left Vera-Cruz, Mex. for a flight to Balboa, Canal Zone. Huntzinger, who worked as a commercial pilot in the summer months, was ferrying a crop dusting plane from Lock-Haven, Pa., to Bogota, Colombia.

Huntzinger visited Marion City schools in the 1940's and early 1950's as Crowell-Colliers representative. He gave airplane rides to many Marion school children on his visits here.

Mrs. W. E. Orcutt, 311 Bellefontaine Ave., a friend of the Huntzingers, received a letter from Mrs. Huntzinger yesterday saying the Air Force has begun a search. Mrs. Huntzinger believes her husband was forced down in the mountainous jungles between Vera Cruz and Tapachula, Mex., where he was to pass Mexican customs.

Mrs. Huntzinger said the 147th Air Force squadron is directing rescue work with the help of South American officials.

Warns Party Leaders

Win or Face Extinction, Nixon Tells Republicans

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vice President Nixon, beaming confidence in public, has warned the Republican National Committee in private the party must come out on top in the 1954 congressional contests or face political extinction.

If the Republicans fail, "the swing is going to be completely to the left and the Republican party will be as dead as the dodo bird," Nixon said yesterday.

His pep talk to the national committee, holding a workshop conference in Cincinnati, was behind closed doors. But his remarks were overheard by reporters.

Forecast Record Vote

In public he forecast a record-smashing vote would give Republicans better control of both houses, where they now hold narrow margins. But in private he said:

"I think this election is a horse race. I think it is extremely close in the House, extremely close in the Senate.

"You could make a pretty good case for a statement that the Republicans are slightly behind in the House, slightly ahead in the Senate. Analyzing it in another way, it can be argued that they are slightly ahead in the House as well as the Senate. It could go either way."

However, he insisted the election could be won if the candidates pegged their campaigns on President Eisenhower's program of "peace, progress and prosperity."

Stresses Dignity, Respect

Republicans won in 1952 because Eisenhower symbolized a demand for a change, Nixon said. The issues then were Korea, communism, controls and corruption, he said.

He said he thought the party had given the voters "the change they wanted," adding:

"We have brought dignity and respect to the highest office in this land."

Nixon told the party leaders he held neither a "wildly optimistic

Dead were Joseph Kaimen, of Fairlawn, N. J. driver of one of the cars, Airmen 3. C. George W. Watson, 19, of Steubenville, Ohio, and Earl S. Parnell, 19, of Pittsburgh, Pa. Both airmen were passengers in Kaimen's car.

The six injured, all riding in the second car, were taken to the Sampson hospital. None is in serious condition.

Favors New York Meeting

U.S. Will Push for Early NATO Talks on Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials tend to favor an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic Allies' foreign ministers at New York late this month to seek agreement on West Germany's role in the defense of Western Europe.

The most workable solution now available, in the opinion of top officials here, is for the 14 members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to make Germany a member with some safeguards to prevent a revival of German militarism along with German rearmament.

Capitals of the Western nations have thrown out a series of suggestions for dealing with the German problem since the French Assembly buried the European Defense Community project under a heavy vote Monday. Out of this widespread diplomatic upheaval several points are coming clear:

1. The U.S. and British governments both hope for German membership in NATO, which requires unanimous approval of the 14 members. Press reports said the Churchill Cabinet so decided at London yesterday, and Secretary of State Dulles had indicated a U.S. position to that effect in calling Tuesday for an emergency NATO session to deal with the problem.

2. French Premier Mendes-France would like some kind of solution which would amount to an EDC substitute or "Little NATO" arrangement, or possibly second-class status for West Germany in the full NATO organization. American and British officials feel, however, that in letting EDC die, Mendes-France lost his last opportunity to impose any such long-time restraint upon Germany's future position and behavior.

3. French rejection of EDC produced a demand from the West German government for complete independence from the Allied occupation and a new Western defense arrangement "without discrimination against German

Rail Workers Obtain Higher Sick Benefits

Railroad employes who become unemployed or sick will receive larger benefits immediately as a result of amendments to the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act approved Tuesday by President Eisenhower.

The Railroad Retirement Act was amended in a number of ways at the same time, particularly by reducing, from 65 to 60, the age at which aged widows may receive monthly annuities. Widows with young children, of course, have been able to draw benefits regardless of age.

The larger unemployment and sickness payments are brought about by a generally higher benefit-rate schedule, along with a new provision that an employe's benefits will not be less than half of his regular pay for his last railroad job in the preceding year, up to a maximum of $42.50 a week in benefits. Almost all employes will get at least $30 a week, the U. S. Railroad Retirement Board reported.

Only employes who earned at least $400 in the preceding year can receive unemployment and sickness benefits. Formerly only $300 was required. Also, no employe can receive more in each type of benefit in a benefit year than his total earnings in the preceding year.

In addition to providing monthly annuities to widows at age 60, the new law permits the payment of monthly benefits to a widowed mother at any age if she is caring for a disabled child, even though the child is past age 18. Before, a widowed mother's annuity stopped when her youngest child became 18. Now, the child may also continue to draw benefits after that age.

Widows who are drawing railroad annuities of their own may now get the full widow's annuity to which they may be entitled on the basis of their deceased husbands' employment.

The amendments also change the work restriction for annuitants under age 65 who retired on account of disability. They may now earn as much as $100 a month without forfeiting their annuity for that month.

As of July 1, 1954, railroad employes and employers will pay railroad retirement taxes on employes' earnings up to $350 a month, instead of $300. Also, the railroads will now pay unemployment and sickness contributions on $350. This means that earnings up to $350 a month will be credited toward benefits.

Nixon

outlook" nor a pessimistic one.

"The Democrats have no great and compelling issue," the vice president said at a press conference. "The one big issue on which they relied has been pulled out from under them—and that was an economic depression or recession."

In private he warned that what he called power-hungry big city and left-wing Democrats would capture the government if the Republicans failed to conduct a winning drive.

This, he said, would be a disaster to the party and to the country.

The Cincinnati Enquirer quoted Nixon as saying every Republican candidate was not all one might like. He even mentioned a name or two, the Enquirer said without specifying what the names were. But, the newspaper reported, Nixon insisted those Senate candidates were better than their opponents. And he said every Senate seat at stake might mean the control of Congress.

At another point in his talk to party leaders, Nixon said the President would support the election of all Republican candidates.

Nixon, himself, denounced as "inexcusable," such defections as that in New Jersey where some Republicans are openly opposing their senatorial candidate, Clifford Case.

A reporter later tried to reach Nixon to question him about the reported statement that all Republican candidates were not all that one might like. But the vice president had checked out of his hotel.

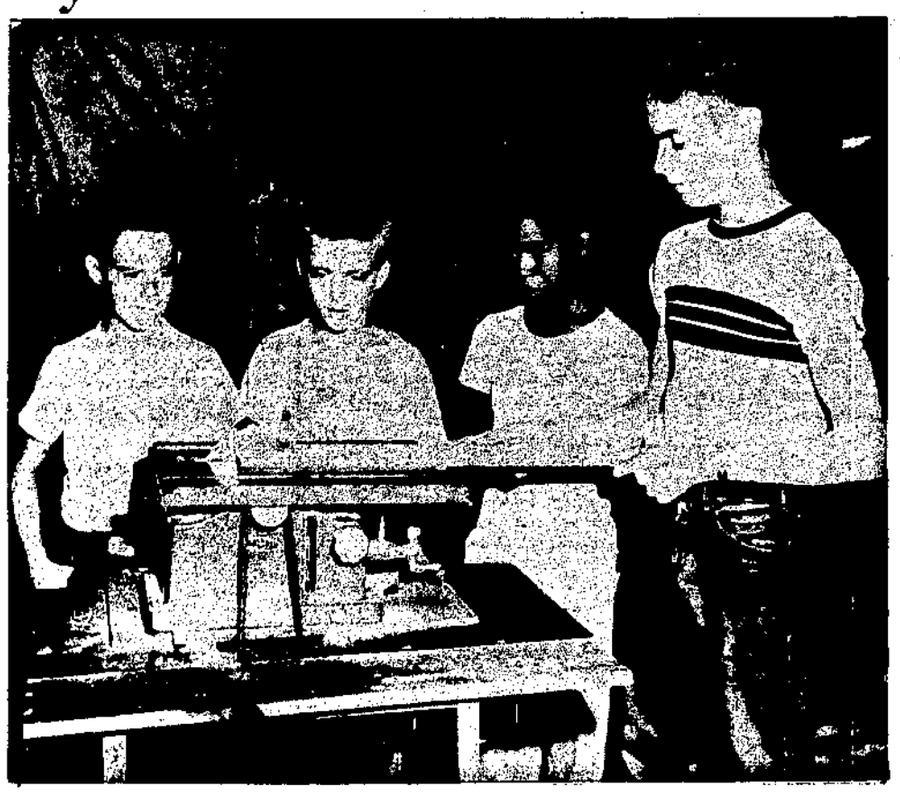
Boy Scouts Tend Garden for Minister



BOY SCOUTS OF TROOP 46, "The Good Turn Troop," are shown here working at two of their summertime projects started both to do "good turns" and to qualify some of them for merit badges.

UPPER: Larry Roush operates a power saw used to cut up pieces of wood for parts for a lawn furniture building project. Looking on, left to right, are young Scouts of the troop, Don Tolley, Harold Wilson and John Goines. The lawn furniture is sold and the proceeds used to swell the troop camping fund.

LOWER: The first "good turn" project was the raising of a vegetable garden started early this spring. Produce from the garden is given by the Scouts to Rev. Lincoln Stafford, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church. Here Tolley hands an armload of corn and cabbage to Rev. Stafford as Bob Wilson, merit badge counselor, looks on.

Troop 46 Youths Follow 'Good Turn' Motto in Summer Project

"One good turn leads to another."

This could well be the motto of Boy Scout Troop 46 which is sponsored by the Pathfinder Class of Wesley Methodist Church.

Early this spring the troop decided to "do a good turn" for Rev. Lincoln Stafford, pastor of Wesley Methodist.

Aware that Rev. Stafford was unable to plant and care for a vegetable garden himself, the boys decided to do it for him. Rev. Stafford lost his lower left leg during a battle on Biak Island during World War II when he was an Army chaplain.

—:—

ONCE THE BOYS had decided on their good turn there followed a summer-long project of raising a vegetable garden with all the produce going to Rev. Stafford and his family. Under the guidance of Bob Wilson, garden counselor, the troop started by first germinating some vegetable seeds, then planting the garden, and cultivating and caring for it. The project will end when the last of the vegetables is harvested this fall.

Located just west of Uncapher Ave., the garden plot soon became known as "Preacher's Acre" among the boys of the troop, although it is somewhat less than an acre in size.

Among the vegetables planted were sweet corn, tomatoes, cabbage, tomatoes, radishes and beans. The plot of ground was donated by Harry Buckingham, owner of the B and H Poultry House adjoining it.

IN WORKING on the project a total of 12 Scouts filled all the requirements for the gardening merit badge.

The next "good turn" planned by the roop has to do with needy children and Christmas. The Scouts plan to collect as many used and broken toys as possible and recondition them for distribution to needy children this Christmas. Plans for this project are not yet complete, but troop members are confident they'll "do a good job" on it.

Another project undertaken during the summer by the boys is one which amounts to each Scout doing a "good turn" for each of his buddies in the troop.

Each night, Monday through Friday, different patrols meet in a garage at the rear of Scoutmaster Roy Buckingham's home which has been converted to a workshop for use of the Scouts.

Working with a jig-saw, power lathe, power saw, and hand tools, the boys are turning out lawn furniture to sell to friends and neighbors. Proceeds from the sale of these items are put in the troop camping fund to help defray expenses of camping trips like one coming up over the Labor Day weekend.

LEAVING FRIDAY night, 20 of the boys, accompanied by Scoutmaster Buckingham and assistants, Dick Thurman, Frank Sloat, and Elmer Darnell, will go to East Harbor State Park for a two and one-half day outing. While there, they will do a lot of swimming and fishing along with working on their Scout requirements, Buckingham said. They will return to Marion Monday afternoon.

In addition to the lawn furniture made in the workshop, the boys also have used the power tools to make pieces of furniture for their own homes. The power tools used in the shop were donated to the use of the troop by Willard Ginder, institutional representative.

In addition to these troop activities many of the Scouts mowed lawns, weeded gardens and did almost any type of odd jobs for neighbors during the summer to earn money to pay their way on various outings and camping trips planned by the troop.

Troop 46 has 32 boys registered in its membership list and a waiting list of several other boys anxious to become Scouts, according to Buckingham. All this means the Scouts must constantly be on their toes or face the possibility of being dropped from the troop. Only two bad behavior marks are allowed each Scout in the troop. "So far, we have never had to drop a boy out of the troop," Buckingham is proud to say.

Wildlife Division To Open Wyandot Lands for Hunting

Land in two sections in Wyandot County will be opened to hunters this fall, the state wildlife division announced today. One place will be an entirely new hunting site, while the other will be an expansion of already existing hunting land.

The new site is a 380-acre former wildlife refuge one mile south of Carey on Ohio Route 699. It will be opened Oct. 1.

An additional 2,400 acres of land has been added to the 1,600 acres of Kildeer Plains two miles southwest of Harpster.

Two other new areas to be opened in the state include a 1,000 acre area in Jackson County and a 468 acre stretch in Brown County. Another existing hunting area in Morgan County will be expanded by 530 acres It is in the Wold Creek area.

Two more lakes were also opened for fishing. They were recently stocked and are now ready for the public. They are Knox Lake in Knox County and Veto Lake in Washington County.

age and liberalizing benefits.

Reporters asked both men about their luck in the trout stream. Eisenhower replied with a grin that his was pretty good, but that Hoover had caught "the biggest one yet."

A moment later Hoover—a slight smile on his face but unquestionably serious—looked at the newsmen and declared:

"Thirty years ago we used to believe that there were only two occasions on which the American people had regard for the privacy of the President — when he was praying or fishing.

"And I now detect that you have lost the second part of that.

"The press no longer has any respect for the privacy of the President in his fishing. That is one of the degenerations of the last 30 years."

BURNS TO DEATH

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Bernard McCormick, 26, of nearby Corning burned to death yesterday when a stove exploded in his five-room cottage. His invalid father, John, 72, was seriously burned in rescue attempts.

Canton Tavern Men Lose Bid For Rehearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Canton tavern operators yesterday were denied a rehearing by the Ohio Supreme Court. The operators want their liquor licenses renewed by the state liquor board.

The two are Louis Mantho and Emanuel R. Diaz. Churches and schools within 500 feet of the taverns objected to the license renewals.

The supreme court, in November 1952, dismissed an appeal in the case after an appellate court reversed a Franklin County Common Pleas Court ruling which ordered the permits issued.

The liquor board appealed from the lower court's action.

Later, the court of appeals decided it had no jurisdiction in the case and on Oct. 19, 1953, wiped out its previous ruling. This was done after the high court, in another case, held that the liquor board lacked the right to appeal adverse common pleas court decisions.

The liquor board then took the case to the high court which last June 23 held the court of appeals had jurisdiction and couldn't set aside its verdict.

Man Suffers Leg Injury in Auto Accident

A 58-year-old employe of the Marion County Home is in "fair" condition at Marion City Hospital today as the result of an accident Wednesday night. Elmer Sauer was struck as he crossed N. Main St. in front of the Wilson Furniture Co. at 10:10 p.m.

City police reported two other accidents, both involving damage of less than $100, while state patrolmen from the Marion post investigated two no-injury accidents on county highways.

Sauer was struck by a car driven north by George Miller, 26, of 657 Cleveland Ave. Police reports indicate Sauer was crossing in the middle of the block. Miller told police he did not see the man.

Leg injuries were received by Sauer and he was taken to the hospital in a Gunder ambulance.

Two County Accidents

Three motorists were handed citations by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post yesterday as the result of two separate traffic accidents on State Route 739 in Marion County.

At 3:30 p.m. cars driven by Robert L. Groves, 18, of Peoria, and Daniel J. Laughrey, 16, of near Richwood, were involved in a mishap on Route 739, three-tenths of a mile north of Green Camp. State patrolmen said Laughrey had started to pass the Groves car when the wheels of the Groves auto went off the berm on the right side.

The Groves car swerved back onto the road, hitting the Laughrey car, skidded back off the right side of the highway, struck a guard rail and tore down 22 feet of farm fence. Considerable damage to the Groves car and minor to the Laughrey auto was reported. Groves suffered a slight abrasion of the left arm but was not treated.

Groves was charged with unsafe operation and cited to appear before Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen on Sept. 4.

About 10:25 p.m. yesterday, a car driven by Robert Lee Longnecker, 20, of near Marion, rammed into the rear of a car driven by Gene A. Rieser, 19, of 264 Hane Ave., on Route 739, one end two-tenths miles south of Marion. Longnecker was cited to appear Sept. 4 before Judge Hazen on a charge of failure to stop within the assured clear distance and Rieser was issued a citation for failure to signal for a stop and will appear Sept. 13 before Judge Hazen.

Rieser's car had minor damage while the Longnecker auto was considerably damaged.

A Philippines spokesman said his government hopes to have these principles, closely resembling the Atlantic Charter, incorporated in the preamble or text of a nine-point treaty draft now before working committees.

If this is rejected, he said, the Philippines will ask the eight member nations to adopt the principles as a separate resolution when the foreign ministers convene Monday.

The Philippines also indicated it will carry to the foreign ministers its fight for a Southeast Asian collective security pact calling for immediate retaliation if one member is attacked.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Seven million dollars in surplus Army goods will be auctioned here next month, the Columbus General Depot announced. No date was set.

Censure

had been correctly quoted by the Denver Post last March as saying that all Senate Democratic leaders "loathe" McCarthy.

Johnson's Position

Johnson has said at the hearings that he did not say he personally loathed McCarthy, but beyond that he has declined comment on the Denver Post interview. He has said, however, that if he did not feel he could weigh the censure charges impartially he would not be participating in the hearings.

The hearing is centered on a censure resolution aimed at McCarthy by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) backed by 46 separate charges raised by Flanders and Sens. Morse (Ind-Ore) and Fulbright (D-Ark).

The committee has boiled these charges down into five major categories.

Flanders said today he will lodge a formal protest if this results in most of his individual charges going "by default."

Watkins told reporters in advance of today's session he expects the committee will decide by Tuesday whether to go more deeply into matters covered in the McCarthy-Army hearings and report.

In the first two days of hearings, the committee finished putting in evidence on three of the five main groups of charges, except for possible odds and ends, with McCarthy sitting by largely silent, leaving his case in the hands of Atty. Edward Bennett Williams.

Two Charges Remain

That left two to go, and these are largely interlaced with the recent McCarthy-Army hearings and the divergent findings of the subcommittee that conducted them.

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) said at first that all the evidence on the remaining charges could be put in today. Then he hedged, after a closed-door committee session yesterday, and said this wasn't certain.

At that session, the committee began looking over the report on the McCarthy-Army set-to. As a result, Watkins said, there is "a possibility" the five classes of charges may be expanded to take in some of the accusations by Flanders, Morse and Fulbright that were previously left out.

That left it up in the air whether McCarthy and Williams could start presenting their defense next Tuesday.

Friday Session Cancelled

Because most members will be attending the funeral of the late Sen. Burnet R. Maybank (D-SC), there will be no session tomorrow. Nor will there be a hearing Monday, Labor Day.

The remaining two categories of charges related to accusations that during the McCarthy-Army hearings the Wisconsin senator (1) encouraged government employes to violate the law by giving him secret information, and (2) produced a 2¼-page document based on a secret FBI report in possible violation of the law.

The committee already has gone into evidence on charges that:

1. McCarthy showed contempt of the Senate in declining to accept invitations to testify about his financial and other operations before a subcommittee which filed a report in 1952 raising numerous questions about them. Williams contended yesterday that subcommittee had no authority for the kind of investigation it conducted, so the charges should be thrown out. They were allowed to stand.

2. McCarthy used "vulgar, base language" against fellow senators. Associated Press reporter B. L. Livingstone testified that during an interlude in the recent McCarthy-Army hearings McCarthy remarked that "they should get a man with a net" and take Flanders "to a good quiet place."

Another AP reporter, Joseph W. Hall, testified that on Jan. 2, 1953, McCarthy described Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), a member of the subcommittee that looked into his financial affairs, as "a living miracle in that he is without question the only man in the world who has lived so long with neither brains nor guts." Williams did not question the accuracy of either quotation but indicated by questions that Flanders and Hendrickson had spoken harshly of McCarthy.

The AP reporters were subpenaed by the committee.

3. The Wisconsin senator abused a decorated war hero, Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, at a hearing in New York last February. The committee counsel, E. Wallace Chadwick, read Zwicker's' Army record, containing citations for gallantry in action and praise by his superiors. Chadwick also read a transcript of the February hearing in which McCarthy implied Zwicker was "not fit to wear that uniform."

Chicken Yard Entered

Entry into a chicken yard at the Scioto Poultry Farm northeast of Marion was reported to the Marion County sheriff's office by John Jones, manager of the farm.

A fence post had been pulled out and the fence torn down, Jones told investigating deputies. It was not determined how many, if any, chickens were taken.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Mark Boles, 65, of Rt. 3, Xenia, was killed last night when a car struck a parked truck on Ohio 72 about two miles south of here. Boles was a passenger in the car.

Urges Interest in Teaching

Speaker Says Ignorance Costlier Than Education

Ignorance is much more costly than education, a leading Ohio educator told approximately 225 persons last night at a dinner meeting for Marion's pre - school workshop at Harding High School.

Robert Lucas, director of field services for the Ohio Education Association, told the group of teachers, parents and civic leaders it costs only 20 cents an hour to educate each child in Ohio. He urged Ohioans to take a greater interest in education for Ohio's schools will be burdened more this year than ever.

ABOUT 100,000 more children will enroll in Ohio schools this year, he said. A combined effort from parents, teachers, legislators and citizens is needed to provide funds to improve teaching environments, he said.

Lucas said Illinois, a state of comparable makeup to Ohio, spends one and one-half million more dollars on education than Ohio. He said Ohio ranks about fifth in amount of professional training for teachers and that funds should be supplied to help the teachers.

Lucas also emphasized the teachers' role in making youngsters feel they belong to our society.

Teachers can help children know they are loved and wanted, Lucas said. Feeling has been underemphasized in education while teachers have concentrated on the mind, he said.

THE ATTITUDE and personality of the teacher is more important than books and tools, Lucas said. All education is guidance—helping children grow—and the teachers' attitude is vital in steering the youngsters properly, he said.

The talk by Lucas and a film on "Freedom To Learn" closed the second day of the workshop. Panel sessions on 10 areas of teaching began yesterday and a summary of the work this afternoon will close the workshop.

Miss Margaret Topliff, vice president of the Marion Education Association, presided at the meeting last night. Rev. Walter Eyster, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Traffic Cases

Two motorists were fined a total of $40 and costs in Municipal Court action Wednesday.

David Alan Bond, 23, of Columbus paid a fine of $25 and costs on a charge of crossing a yellow line, while Richard Robel, 29, of Sandusky was fined $15 and costs for violating a stop sign.

troops." In its communique yesterday bidding for equal status with the Allies, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Cabinet pointedly excluded France from the nations it said should negotiate the new military alliance.

4. Washington has acted with deliberate slowness in some respects to encourage the European nations, particularly France, to come up with new ideas for dealing with the aftermath of EDC's defeat. They are hoping that some line of action will develop clearly in Europe within the next two weeks.

5. The British government reportedly wants a meeting with leaders of the United States and the six EDC countries before the proposed NATO session. American officials indicated they would study the British suggestion, but they wondered whether such a meeting could be fitted in. The EDC countries are France, Italy, West Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

6. There is no thought in Washington, and apparently none in London, of making any effort to revive EDC. Nor is there any real interest here in trying to put over some watered-down version such as Mendes-France might suggest.

The urgent problem of the moment is regarded here as being to bolster the position of Adenauer by granting the Germans sovereign equality at the earliest possible time—within a few weeks at the latest. Officials here say a German contribution is essential to the successful defense of Western Europe, and that every necessary step must be taken to prevent West Germany from reorienting its policies away from the Western Powers and toward Russia.

Plans for an emergency NATO session are just being developed. Dulles' Tuesday statement specified neither time nor place. However, Washington officials think that New York late this month should prove convenient to NATO ministers. Many of them are expected there for the Sept. 21 opening of the United Nations General Assembly.

Ambassador John C. Hughes, U.S. member on the Permanent NATO Council at Paris, has been instructed to arrange a prompt meeting of that body to work out time and place.

ship for the Peiping regime.

In addition to acting on a flock of policy statements, legion delegates choose today a new national commander before adjourning their convention sometime this afternoon.

They worked overtime yesterday, passing a flock of resolutions reaffirming their stand for preferential treatment of veterans in government employment and for other benefits, but the business built up into a heavy carryover.

The convention defeated attempts to place curbs on the legion's fun-loving subsidiary, the 40 and 8 society, after a heated floor fight with overtones of the racial segregation issue.

The convention upheld the action of its committee on constitutional amendments in rejecting a resolution that would have deprived the 40 and 8 of legion sanction until it eliminates from its constitution a restriction on membership to "white males" only.

Campbell, Ky., and nearby Clarksville, Tenn.; on civilians in Omaha, Neb., Chicago and New York; and on two former bar girls in vice-ridden Phenix City, Ala.

Symbol of Unsocial Youth

Lt. Whitley, who flew to Chanute to advise the military on the Pachuco problem, said:

"I am convinced that this recent spread is simply a symbol of unsocial youth. One boy hears about it, or sees the mark on somebody else in jail or in the military guardhouse, and thinks it would be a good idea to have his own mark to boast about. Chances are many haven't the slightest idea what 'Pachuco' means.

"We know what it means but it's impossible to translate accurately. We heard it as long ago as 1941 and it came into usage in 1943 in the riot-fights between zoot-suiters and servicemen in Los Angeles.

"The term Pachuco came to the coast from the El Paso, Tex., border country during the war. It's a Mexican slang expression originally applied in derogatory meaning to the 'zooties'—the smart-alecks, toughs, hoodlums or whatever you wish to call them of Mexican descent who wore long coats, peg-top, ankle-tight pants, duck-tail haircuts and thick-soled shoes.

Adopted by 'Toughs'

"But now it has lost that significance. It has been adopted, or applied to, youngsters who are, or think they are, toughs of all grades. But we find it no longer applies only to Mexican-Americans. The kids recently involved show no pattern of nationality or race. It's simply become a symbol associated with the very widespread youthful gang problem.

Foundation Makes Emergency Grants

The board of trustees of the Marion Community Foundation Wednesday night made emergency grants of $1,390 to the Family Service Society and $622 to the Marion District, Harding Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The action was taken following long and careful deliberation by the board, which, after approving the two grants, passed a motion that in the future such requests would be given a thorough preliminary study by the board's executive council and budget committee before being submitted to the trustees.

The executive council and the budget committee are charged with the establishment of the serious need for such requests.

Meeting in its regular monthly session at the YMCA, the board also discussed plans for the forthcoming United Appeals drive.

Marion Postoffice Promotions Made

Four personnel changes at the Marion postoffice were announced today by Homer Cole, postmaster.

O. W. Wetzel has been promoted from examiner in charge to clerk in charge. Donald E. Garver, who was promoted to clerk in charge June 16, has now been promoted to the inspection service in Washington with orders to report there Sept. 11 for assignment.

New assistant superintendent of mails is Robert E. Evans who was promoted to that position from the post of superintendent of money orders. John A. Key has been promoted from the position of clerk to that of examiner for the Civil Service Board.

Leader No Longer

By George Sokolsky

It is evident, from all that is happening in the world these days, that the United States is no longer the world leader. There will be Americans who will regret this change of position, but there is nothing that can be done about it. As a matter of fact, there is no world leader.

SOKOLSKY

Beginning with the Marshall Plan, the American concept of world leadership was to export capital to any country that would take it, for the purpose of strengthening that country, and to win it to our foreign policies.

-:-

THE COUNTRIES were strengthened and, as each one felt the sap of renewed vigor, it sensed the necessity for independence from the United States.

It would be possible to withdraw all aid and then some of these countries would flop on their faces, but that is not American policy. We go on strengthening these countries with our aid despite their open antagonism to us.

Great Britain, for instance, is the real stumbling block to the European Defense Community. As Great Britain will not join it, why should France? Why should anybody?

Sir Winston Churchill has for a decade spoken eloquently about a European Union, but there is not a scintilla of evidence that he has ever done anything about it.

IN THE RECENT show - down with Premier Mendes - France, he missed the chance of putting France into the EDC. If Churchill insists on Great Britain staying out, what arguments can the spellbinder produce for getting Mendes-France to put his country into it?

"Le Dauphine Libere" asks a very wise question:

"Will Churchill encourage the supporters of the treaty to put it rapidly into application? One must not forget the responsibility which Britain bears because of her abstention and hesitation. He might at any rate hold out the hope that she would ultimately rally to the EDC once the community had become a tangible reality. . ."

Perhaps the answer lies in a speech delivered by Kuo Mo-jo, Vice Chairman of the National Committee of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference, at a reception in honor of Clement Attlee in Peking, when he said:

"OUR DISTINGUISHED guests here are well aware that since the end of the Second World War, as a result of the practice of the 'policy of strength,' of arms drives and war preparations, the world has been sharply divided into two groups — the East and the West —and the contacts between them have been artificially prevented, the cultural interchange and trade between them obstructed.

"This has causd the international situation to become tenser day by day and has constituted a great menace to world peace.

"Faced with this menace, an increasing number of people have in the last few years expressed a common desire. They demand that the different countries of the world resolve international disputes through negotiation so that the international tension may be gradually eased.

"This universal appeal found an initial fulfillment in the recent Geneva Conference. The achievements of the Geneva Conference testify that by means of negotiations any international dispute can be resolved reasonably and justly."

Geneva represented Red China's first and most diplomatic victory. At Geneva, it was Red China that eliminated the United States from world leadership. At Geneva, Great Britain and France joined with Soviet Russia and Red China against the United States.

This means a new day for the United States. We cannot become friends and associates of Soviet Russia or Red China even if public opinion in the United States would have it so, which it will not.

THE REASON: it is the fixed policy of the Soviet Universal State to isolate the United States, to reduce its economic leadership in the world, to limit its political influence in Europe and Asia. To date, the Russian success in this direction is so outstanding that it would be stupid for the Russians to reverse their course.

By separating this country from Great Britain and France at Geneva, Soviet Russia has accomplished the first forward step in the isolation of the United States. The second can be the total failure of EDC. The third step would be a revival of the Little Entente which would indirectly make France an ally of the Soviet Universal State via Poland and Czechoslovakia.

As these steps develop, the United States will be forced to switch its focus from Europe to Asia.

'Trigger' Burke

By Victor Riesel

"Trigger" Burke, an artisan in his trade of swift murder, is known among his goon companions as proud indeed of the fact that so skillful is his use of a machine gun that he has been offered as much as $10,000 just to wound a man. Not kill him — but make it look like a badly planted murder shot.

RIESEL

Elmer, the Trigger, would therefore feel very bad if he learned that the mob which had pinned its hopes on him as a front for the newest and lushest of labor rackets, today values him more as a psychological than a lethal weapon.

-:-

THE MOB "SPRANG" Burke from Boston's old Charles street jail as part of its psychological warfare against labor—as well, of course, as against other elements which aren't enthusiastic over the crime syndicate's resurgence. And resurge it has.

The mob's prestige today, as a result of springing Burke, is enormous. That Boston jailbreak proved to undercover police contacts, certain labor leaders and mobsters tempted to rush to grand juries that the crime syndicate again has a tremendous functioning organization.

Otherwise it could not have had the detailed knowledge or the equipment necessary to reach into a big city prison and free "Trigger" Burke. Furthermore, the mob has other machine-gunners. So the "wise money" knows that Burke was snatched from jail as a public notice of mob power to all circles about to be shaken down.

Though the police in Philadelphia, New York and Boston have been particularly concerned with the Burke escape, the mob's defiance of East Coast gendarmarie is of significance right across to the West Coast.

FOR, WHEN BURKE was picked up last June 19, he was being pursued by at least three New York City detectives who knew that he was about to be used by the mob as the "muscle" in a drive to take over AFL stage hands and theatrical trucking local unions.

The very well-informed police knew from their own sources that "The Trigger" was to be the advance "troops" to infiltrate the television industry. From there he was to go into the legitimate theatrical industry and then attemp to work from his base back to Hollywood's studios.

The mob, having lost much of its "take" on the New York and other eastern waterfronts, dreamed of the Capone salad days when the movie studios were shaken down for $1,000,000 in one year by Willie Bioff. Bioff is still alive somewhere, and who knows?—like his old friend, George Scalise—Willie may be itching to return to the old hunting grounds.

WITH BURKE cooped up, it looked like the boys might have to fall back on some reserve. But, snatched from one of the grimmest pens, Elmer, the Trigger is additionally valuable as a psychological factor. Few now will dare defy any emissary who comes from the mob—as the Chicago boys once came to George Browne, then head of the AFL stagehands and says:

"We have a car and a bag of cement downstairs. Wanna play ball with us or take a ride to the lake?"

Browne played. The mob has tougher opposition now in the national stage hands union chief, Dick Walsh; so the boys planned to go after separate locals.

All this is just symptomatic of what's happening in a dozen big cities. The crime syndicate is a loose coalition of boys reaching from New York, through Pennsylvania to Detroit and Chicago, where they have been knocking each other off at a satisfactory rate in order to discipline some of the old-timers who still think they can ride on Scarface Al's reputation and organization.

THE MOB IS STILL interested in terrorizing local unions, not only so the gangs can sell labor peace but to force the placement of millions of dollars worth of welfare insurance with their friends.

This is the big gimmick, though there is still money in phony locals like a new "independent" textile workers' outfit about to be launched in the South.

So it was good to hear the other day that Pennsylvania's Rep. Sam McConnell, head of the House labor committee, had told New York and Chicago labor leaders that he was "quietly" investigating union and insurance welfare funds.

He was using ex-FBI accountants for swift probes in a score of cities —and, he said, he planned to hold his first public hearing Sept. 22 in Los Angeles. Investigators are probing that city now.

THEN THE COMMITTEE will "probably" go to San Francisco and "one other Pacific northwest city", Chicago, Kansas City, New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

There will be no sideshows, no "headline-hunting," no TV, McConnell said. Just the facts. Well, the facts are grim. But if McConnell searches them out and makes them public, he'll shake many a trigger man lose.

It's time, too, that decent men did not have to move in the shadow of killers for hire.

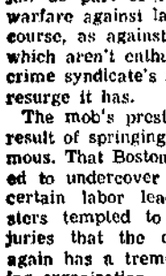
Teen-Agers

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

How many people in America today are afraid of teen-agers? Physically afraid, I mean.

Teen-agers in every generation hav annoyed or amused their elders, and generally been written off as pretty worthless (unless there happened to be a war on, and they were needed to carry guns.)



HAL BOYLE

Of course, this never was really true and few really believed it. If every crop of teen-agers was worse than the one before, the human race would have lost out long ago.

But it does seem some strange kind of mental bug is infecting our young. Parental authority is crumbling. Juvenile delinquency is growing. The kid gangs of yore used to think they were pretty daring when they joined in mass fist fights or made a midnight raid on a watermelon patch; the kid gangs today have gone a long step farther. They want to rob a grocery store, steal a car, carry a shiv, ambush a growuup and kick him into a pulp.

THE OTHER NIGHT I was walking with my wife on a Manhattan street. A group of teen-age boys approached in full uniform—T-shirts and blue jeans. They were laughing, mauling each other and shouting boisterously, as cubs have done since time began.

"Don't say anything to them," said Frances, clutching my arm nervously.

"Say anything to them? I don't even know those kids."

"Well, don't say anything anyway," she said. "It might start trouble."

The kids passed by without even noticing us. They kept right on mauling each other and making those boisterous teen-age sounds that put the nerves of some forgetful adults on edge. But I remember being that age very well myself—the wildernes when you are half-boy, half-man, and feeling pretty much at sea inside. And so I knew why they were so noisy — because in their hearts they felt insecure, just as a child whistles passing a lonely graveyard in the dark.

But I also knew what my wife was thinking. She was thinking of the rash of headlines about teen-age gangs beating up and killing casual passersby, or muscling down a woman for the change in her purse.

SINCE THEN I have heard several women say they were afraid to go out unescorted in the evening, and men complain "nobody's really safe on the street at night anymore because of those crazy kids."

If that is the situation here, then the same feeling must exist —to a smaller or greater extent— in dozens of other cities across the United States. For New York has no monopoly on kid gangs or juvenile delinquency.

How many adult Americans right now are actually physically afraid of teen-agers? Undoubtedly more than at any previous period.

But it is a bitter commentary on our civilization that so many of us should regard in fear today the generation that is our only hope of tomorrow.

You can't condemn all teen-agers because a few learn the art of mayhem before they learn a trade, and get their laughs by clobbering strangers unconscious ad dumping them into a river. The frightening thing is these examples of brutality aren't isolated.

Juvenile delinquency no longer is an adolescent pimple on our society. It is a spreading adolescent cancer.

By the time these kill-for-thrills teen-agers explode, it is too late. Neither the storm shelter of psychiatry nor the electric chair offers much of a real solution then.

IT ISN'T A REPAIR JOB. It's a problem of prevention. Some folks feel that if you switch a child often enough when it is young you won't have to pull an electric switch on it later, but hat makes it altogether too simple. Science must find a way to detect early in life the children with dynamite caps in their brains, and society must share with their parents the responsibility of seeing they are helped to go right at a time when they can still be helped—before they explode and blow their own lives, and perhaps other lives, to pieces.

Who wants to go on being half-afraid of his neighbor's teen-age kids—and, often, his own?

Let's Explore Ohio

Ft. Laurens, No. 11 in Ohio's hit parade of tourist attractions, last year drew almost 660,000 visitors, according to the Ohio Historical Society. On this site, in the fall of 1778, a detachment of 1,000 soldiers from Ft. Pitt, under command of Gen. McIntosh, erected a log fort which was the farthest west American Army outpost during the Revolutionary War. Today, concrete markers outline the shape of Ft. Laurens in the 82-acre State Memorial park which has picnic facilities and shelter house for families on outings. In the later treaties with the Indians, Ft. Laurens figured prominently as a landmark for setting up the boundaries between the young United States and the lands of the Indian tribes to the northwest.

Man Gets Stiff Sentence After Fight in House

A Marion man charged with resisting arrest, disorderly conduct, and intoxication was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Columbus workhouse when he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Wednesday.

John P. Evans, 38, of 841 Adams St. was arrested at 10:28 p.m. Tuesday after police were told of a fight at 845 Adams St.

When police arrived they found the inside of the house in shambles with windows broken out, furniture broke, and holes punched in walls. Charles Simpkins, owner of the house, told them four men had been fighting in the place.

Searching the area, police found Evans running across a truck parking lot nearby being chased by Kenneth Niles and Raymond Link, truck drivers for the Schlairet Transfer and Storage Co. Link told police Evans walked up to him and threatened him with a knife unless he would take him out of the state.

Police said that when they attempted to arrest Evans he also threatened them with a butcher knife.

Municipal Court records show that Evans was previously arrested a year ago on a similar charge.

Police Find Prowler Is Just Skunk Taking Bath

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A householder reported to police that she heard splashing noises at the rear of her home yesterday and suspected a prowler.

Policeman Robert Heath found a skunk splashing merrily in a fish pond. The officer stood by while the skunk completed his cooling bath and then scampered away. It was just too hot a day to incur the animal's wrath.

Grand Prairie School Will Open Next Week

Arrangements have been completed for opening of Grand Prairie School next week with teachers named for seven grades.

Eighth grade pupils from Grand Prairie this school year will attend either Thomas A. Edison Junior High School in Marion or Morral School because of lack of room at the home school, Russell Martin, principal, stated. A new regulation is that all new pupils must have vaccination and diphtheria immunization as recommended by the Marion County Health Department.

A faculty meeting will be held Labor Day at 2 p.m., followed Tuesday by a half day of school beginning at 8:40 a.m. For the first full day of school Wednesday, the cafeteria will be open.

The list of instructors for the first to seventh grades includes Miss Beatrice McIntosh, Miss Carol Harriman, Mrs. Ralph Hinamon, Mrs. Lawrence Cochran, Mrs. Lucille Shover, Raymond Stair and Mrs. Dorothe Davis, with Mrs. Miriam Cheney teaching music. Harvey Vroman is custodian.

Truck Weight Limit Is Too Low, Council Finds

SAN MARINO, Calif. (AP)—The Council in this municipality, one of the wealthiest communities per capita in the nation, overtid itself in trying to keep heavy trucks off residential streets.

An ordinance scheduled to go into effect in 20 days would bar vehicles over 4,000 pounds from most thoroughfares.

That would keep the trucks off, all right. But it also would ban most luxury automobiles owned by the townspeople.

The Council is expected to boost the limit to 6,000 pounds in the very near future.

HAMILTON COUNTY SUED

CINCINNATI (AP) — The United States is suing Hamilton County for $62,000, cost of a water main built by the government to service its model village of Greenhills. Yankees Slice Cleveland Lead With 'Must' Victory

Lopat Registers 40th Win Of Lifetime Over Tribe 4-1

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) "Yesterday we were out of business, today we're back in it."

Manager Casey Stengel was in an expansive mood after the New York Yankees' 4-1 "must" victory over Cleveland yesterday that sliced the Indians' first-place margin over the defending champions to 4½ games.

"It was a game we had to win," said Stengel, "and just as we've been doing for six years, we won it. That's why you can't count us out yet. Never sell the Yankees short until they are mathematically eliminated.

"The other guys don't have it wrapped up yet. They just think they have. Don't forget they haven't had a slump all season. But if we can beat them again tomorrow and keep the pressure on them, we might scare them into one.

"I'm not saying they'll choke. They never have. But they could slow up a little. I know one thing we better not choke. We can't afford to lose any more."

As expected the Cleveland clubhouse was quiet but no one appeared dejected. Manager Al Lopez accepted the defeat philosophically.

"I feel the same way about it now as I did Tuesday night," he said. "I still think that was the big one for us. No matter what happens tomorrow, we'll still leave here with a pretty comfortable lead. After all, it's too much to expect us to sweep all three games here. This is still a pretty good club we're playing."

The Yankee battery of southpaw Ed Lopat and catcher Yogi Berra was the "whole" club yesterday. Lopat spaced nine hits for his 12th victory of the year and his 40th lifetime win over the Indians. Berra laced three of the Yanks' hits, including his 18th home run, scored twice and drove in two runs.

Stengel disclosed Lopat was only one pitch away from being derricked in the fifth inning. That was the inning in which Cleveland had the bases loaded with nobody out and Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Vic Wertz, the "heart" of the Indians' batting order, coming up.

The canny 36-year-old Lopat had a 3-2 count on Doby before he fanned the league's leading home run and runs batted in slugger. He then elated the crowd of 43,367 by disposing of Rosen on an infield pop and Wertz on a routine grounder.

"I talked to Lopat when he came in after that inning," Stengel said, "because I was afraid that might have taken too much out of him. I wanted to take him out before he got too tired. I had Allie Reynolds in the bullpen ready to go in. Lopat told me he'd let me know. Well, he never let me know so I let him in there."

Reynolds, like the rest of the Yankees, felt they must win the remaining three games with Cleveland to stick in the pennant fight.

"We can't depend upon anybody else to do the job for us, Reynolds said. "Nobody can help us. If we don't do it ourselves it just won't be done."

3,000th Winner Ridden by Atkinson

NEW YORK (AP)—A little 38-year-old man, who paid $1.50 to ride his first horse, today was in the three thousand winner class along with such turf greats as Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Longden and England's Sir Gordon Richards.

Ted Atkinson, a native of Canada, rode his 3,000th winner when he booted the Greentree Stable's Devastation to victory in the third race at Aqueduct yesterday.

Giants Lose To Reds as Hurlers Fail

CINCINNATI (AP)—If the New York Giants lose the National League pennant they may have dropped it in Crosley Field.

They played their last contest of the season in the Cincinnati Redleg park last night. The Reds cuffed seven Giant pitchers—one off a league record—for 13 hits and 10 walks in gaining a 9-7 triumph.

The Giants have lost 6 of 11 games to the Reds in Crosley Field while the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers still 3½ games behind have copped 9 of the 11 played here. A Giant victory would have provided a needed extra-game cushion.

Last night's encounter was a weird one. Manager Leo Durocher, officially protested the contest in the third inning after what he thought was the third out.

Cincinnati second baseman Johnny Temple tried to steal home while the ball was on the ground between the pitcher and the first baseman. He was called out by Plate Umpire Lon Warneke. But the official on third, Frank Secory, said he had previously called "time" and thus Temple was still on third.

Durocher bellowed "Who asked you to call time? A Cincinnati player?"

Secory replied "I called time."

The decision did no damage to the Giant cause as the next batter grounded out to retire the side.

There was another misunderstanding in the seventh. With a rally in progress, pinchhitter Bill Taylor socked the ball past the pitcher to Roy McMillan, who tagged Dusty Rhodes on Dusty's way to second. Rhodes claimed vigorously he was safe but he was out—and out. Frank Dascoli, the second base ump, thumbed him out of the park.

One league record was tied when Temple grounded into a doubleplay for the third time.

The contest was billed as a battle between Cincinnati first baseman Ted Kluszewski, who leads the league in home runs with 41 and the Giants' Willie Mays, the No. 2 man with 39. Neither hit one over the fence, but Klu tapped four singles, three of them driving in runs, and Mays hit three.

The home run business was attended to by Rhodes, who smashed his 15th of the season and Alvin Dark, who accounted for his 17th. Dark also collected four hits.

Seixas May Quit Play in Cup Classic

FOREST HILLS, N Y (AP)—Vic Seixas, runner-up to Tony Trabert for the National Tennis Championship last year, one-half the 1953 Davis Cup team, and current forgotten man of the tennis circuit may never see Australia again.

"Nope," he said today, "I may not go to Australia if they want me to play doubles only."

He didn't say "positively," but if he refuses to take the long jaunt, the United States will lose a certain point in the challenge round because like night follows day, Seixas and Trabert can beat any Australian combination. Coach Harry Hopman names.

"My only ambitions were to win at Wimbledon, win our national singles title and perform on a winning Davis Cup team," he said. "I've fulfilled one of them, winning Wimbleton. Now I have the singles on my mind. I think I can come through."

Seixas, who stopped England's Roger Becker, 6-4 6-4 6-4 in the third round, will have to await the outcome of the Bernard Bartzen-Neale Fraser match before swinging into the fourth round. Fraser, an Australian was leading the national clay courts champion from San Angelo, Tex., 7-9, 6-2, 9-7, 10-10 when darkness halted the match yesterday.

Otherwise the only crack in the seeded ranks is the demise of Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., No. 6 who bowed to 19-year-old Jack Frost in the third round yesterday, 9-7, 10-12, 5-7, 6-4, 10-8.

In other fourth round matches, Tom Brown Jr., of San Francisco, went against Sweden's Sven Davidson, and Ham Richardson met Owen Williams of South Africa.

Defending Champion Tony Trabert is the only player in the upper half of the draw in the fourth round. He turned back Canada's Lorne Main, 11-9, 8-6, 6-2.

First 'Studio-Home' Boxing Matches Make Fight History

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boxing history was made last night with the first studio-home audience nation-wide televised fight show but the only happy faces were those of four unheralded preliminary fighters.

It took a case of mumps to fulfill a prediction by the late Mike Jacobs, renowned New York promoter, that the day would come when prize fights would be held before unpaying audiences.

Kid Gavilan came down with the mumps Tuesday, 24 hours before he was scheduled to make his eighth title defense against Johnny Saxton. The promoters — Herman Taylor and the International Boxing Club of New York — were faced with the prospect of no show at all.

Rather than break the uninterrupted four-year Wednesday TV fight show series, Taylor and the IBC put together a double windup program of six-rounders. No admission was charged for the show at the Met, a small club with about 5,000 seats.

Some 2,000 fans — about the size of a large studio audience—turned out, most of them from the neighborhood surrounding the Met. The fighters, George Justine and Ellwood Davis, Philadelphia welterweights and Bobby Bell, Youngstown, O., and Ike Chestnut of New York, each received $1,500 for their appearance.

The fighters were happy. They each got a nice chunk of TV money. But everyone else connected with the affair wasted no smiles.

Gavilan was home in bed with the mumps.

Saxton was down in the mouth at losing his opportunity — for the time being at least — to fight for the 147-pound crown.

Promoter Taylor and IBC representatives were busy counting up their financial losses because of the postponement and the expense of putting on the substitute show.

The sponsor of the TV show claimed he lost 20 per cent of his audience because of the Gavilan-Saxton postponement.

About the fight:

Justice, 140, suffered cuts over both eyes and a bruise under his left eye but emerged a surprising winner over Davis.

Chestnut, 127, a former Golden Gloves champion and Bell, a 25-year-old Oldsman recently out of the Army, fought to a draw.

Eaton Defeats McMillen for Industrial Title

Eaton edged McMillen 2-1 to capture the first round championship of Industrial League No. 2 at Garfield Park last night.

McMillen which shared the first round title with C & O could have tied for the last round championship by beating Eaton.

Baker Wood trounced Pollak 12-1 and Erie No. 2 outscored C & O, 8-5, in other action last night.

Single runs in the second and fourth frames gave Eaton its win as Gorham spun a two-hitter. Crabtree of McMillen was touched for four hits.

Medley hurled Erie to the win on a 11-hitter while Cottrill gave up only 10 safeties. D. Carr and Rebert each had two hits for the winners while Lane had four straight hits for C & O.

Five runs in the opening frame was enough as Baker Wood trimmed Pollak. Tom Watts held Pollak to five hits. His teammates were able to touch Smith of Pollak for seven.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Warren Spahn, Milwaukee Braves, won his 9th straight game and 17th of season by beating Pirates, 3-1.

BATTING — Yogi Berra, New York Yankees, collected two singles and a homer, driving in two runs as the Yankees defeated the Cleveland Indians, 4-1.

Spahn Returns to Form, Sparks Braves' Drive

Lefty Notches 17th; Chicago Beats Dodgers

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Warren Spahn, whose sensational return to form in midseason made the National League pennant race a three-team affair, still is firing away with amazing precision although time probably has run out for his Milwaukee Braves.

After a mediocre spring and early summer during which he lost 10 games, Spahn hit his winning stride July 18. He won his ninth game that day, beating Pittsburgh. Last night, again against Pittsburgh, he won his 17th. In between he's gone unbeaten.

With 25 games left, a minimum of five more starts for the 32-year-old left-hander, Spahn stands a good chance of winning at least 20 games for the sixth time.

He won 23 while losing only 7 a year ago, the best of his nine seasons with the Braves He also won more than 20 in 1947 and from 1949 through 1951. His worst big league season was 1952 when he was beaten 19 times while winning 14.

When Spahn started to win regularly, so did the Braves They jumped from 15 games behind in late July into the thick of the race by mid-August.

Spahn's 3-1 victory over the Pirates moved the Braves within 6½ lengths of the first-place New York Giants and within three of second-place Brooklyn, both losers yesterday.

Cincinnati beat the Giants 9-7 in a game played under protest from the third inning on by the New Yorkers. Chicago defeated Brooklyn 9-5 for its seventh straight triumph.

Philadelphia replaced St. Louis in fifth place with a 5-2 victory over the Cardinals.

The New York Yankees kept their pennant hopes alive with a 4-1 conquest of Cleveland, cutting the Indians' first-place margin to 4½ games. The Chicago White Sox split at Boston, losing the day game 7-2 and winning the night game 6-3. Washington defeated Detroit 4-1. Baltimore and Philadelphia weren't scheduled.

The Braves scored one run on three hits and two runs on one hit in beating Pittsburgh. Three first-inning singles produced the first run. The other two came on Andy Pafko's single, a two-base error by Curt Roberts, a sacrifice and a wild pitch.

Neither the Giants nor the Dodgers looked good in losing. The Dodgers committed four errors in the game, three in one inning and two on one play and their pitching was shaky. The bad inning was the sixth when the Cubs combined three hits with the three errors for four runs.

The Giants used seven pitchers in a vain effort to halt the Redlegs. Ted Kluszewski led the 13-hit Cincinnati assault with four singles and drove in three runs.

A grand-slam home run by Del Ennis in the first inning paved the way for the Phillies' victory in St. Louis.

Yogi Berra and Eddie Lopat combined their hitting and pitching talents in the Yankees' defeat of Cleveland. Berra scored one run, then drove in two more with his 18th homer. Lopat rarely has been more impressive with his assortment of "junk". He gave up nine hits but only one—Jim Hegan's triple in the third—figured in the scoring.

Johnny Schmitz won his ninth game and pitched his second shutout in blanking Detroit on seven hits.

Reserve outfielder Karl Olson and rookie pitcher Tom Hurd were the standouts in Boston's daylight victory over Chicago. Olson drove in two runs and scored a third Hurd, who pitched the last 4 1-3 innings and allowed only two men to reach base, received credit for his first major league victory.

Johnny Groth hit a two-run homer and walked with the bases loaded to force home a third run in Chicago's night-game triumph.

Indianapolis Wins, Moves Within Tilt Of Clinching Flag

By The Associated Press

The Indianapolis Indians are within one game of clinching the American Association pennant following another brilliant performance by their brilliant rookie pitcher, Herb Score.

Score set down St. Paul's Saints on one hit last night as the Indians rang up a 7-0 victory. He yielded a single to John Bucha in the first inning; so he wasn't bothered by the pressure of a possible no-hitter. He struck out 13 to run his season total to a record 304

It was Score's 21st victory against four losses.

The second-place Louisville Colonels picked on last place Charleston for a 10-0 decision although they were outhit 11-10.

Minneapolis strengthened its hold on third place by turning back Kansas City, 9-7.

Toledo, with a flurry of extra base hits, conquered Columbus, 5-2. Les Fusselman homered for the winners, while Felix Mantilla, Harry Hanebrink and Jack Daniels socked run-producing doubles.

FAMILY CHAMPIONS

TORONTO (AP) — Garth Boesch, former ace defenseman with the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League, is also highly skillful as a trapshooter. He was a big winner in the Canadian Provincial Trapshooting competition. And Mrs. Boesch, equally adept with a gun, won the women's singles title.

Robbins Prepares Irish For Football Scrimmage

St. Mary Coach Ray Robbins today was busily rounding his small Irish squad into shape for its first taste of outside opposition

The Irish are scheduled to scrimmage Galion there Saturday morning, Robbins said last night

The Irish mentor sent his squad through all phases of the game, particularly emphasizing backfield patterns, in an hour and a-half long drill last evening

A 20-minute scrimmage which concluded yesterday's drills was marred by the injury of Jerry Ballenger, mainstay in the Irish forward wall last season He was cleated between the eyes and several stitches were required to close the wound However Robbins said the wound was not serious and Ballenger was expected to be back in action at today's practice sessions

In the scrimmage yesterday Robbins had a tentative starting team of Gary Bowman and Richard Micheli at ends Dick Mounts and John Kelly at tackles Dave Kraft and Ballenger at guards, Bill Tobin at center, John Messenger and Don Sherer at halfbacks, Bob McMahan at quarterback and John Spangle at fullback

He also injected Frank Grace at center, Butch Simpson at tackle, Jon Smith at guard and Jerry Cornely at a halfback spot during the scrimmage

Still watching play from the sidelines was Roger Micheli, last year's Irish quarterback. The cast which was protecting a wrist injury has been removed and a physician is to examine Micheli's wrist sometime this week He probably will be out for several more days while his wrist strengthens

Council Issues 8 Life-Saving Drivers' Rules

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight life-saving rules of driving were offered American motorists Wednesday—in advance of the Labor Day weekend traffic crush.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, observed that they might keep many a motorist from becoming a statistic during the holiday period. Council engineers estimated 390 persons will be killed next weekend in traffic.

At the head of the list is this suggestion: stay close to home if you can. Extensive trips on high speed rural roads increase your risk. The others:

2. If you go somewhere, start in plenty of time so you won't be tempted to hurry and take chances.

3. Keep your speed about the same as that of other cars on the road. Passing and being passed is one of the most dangerous highway maneuvers.

4. Don't try to pass a line of cars all at once. Stay behind until each car ahead has passed and you are directly behind the slower moving vehicle.

5. Avoid sudden stops and lane changing. Signal your intentions and make your moves smoothly.

6. Don't follow too closely. Give yourself plenty of room to avoid a crash if the car ahead should stop or turn unexpectedly.

7. If you are returning from a vacation or resort with a heavily loaded car, remember that the extra weight may require more acceleration time and stopping distance. The car's stability on curves may be different too.

8. Use extreme care if you are pulling a boat trailer. Drive slowly enough to keep it from whipping, avoid fast stops, and don't pass unless you have plenty of room.

CHANGE IN COMMAND. Capt. Frank Leamy (left), the new Ninth Coast Guard district commander, salutes Rear Adm. Roy L. Raney, who departs for his new command at the First Coast Guard district in Boston. The district includes the entire Great Lakes area. It is Captain Leamy's first tour of duty in the Great Lakes.

Grounded Godfrey To Get Air Award

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who can't fly because his pilot's license has been suspended, was scheduled to come here today to receive an award for his contributions to aviation.

The National Aviation Trades Assn.'s regional meeting was to present the radio and television performer with a diamond-studded silver punch bowl. Engraved on the bowl is a map of Virginia with a diamond marking Godfrey's home town of Leesburg.

Godfrey's pilot's license was suspended for six months March 16 when he was charged with careless flying at Teterboro, N. J., airport Jan. 7. Godfrey denied any carelessness.

State Fair Will 'Break Even,' Director Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It was a good day for Ohioans at the Ohio State Fair yesterday. A 15-year-old Huntsville boy became all-time record winner at the junior fair. A fine chestnut colt named Top Deck won the featured harness race. Two Ohio entries scored as champions in the National Shorthorn Show.

And Fair Director Sam C. Cashman said he thinks this 100th fair will finish in the black or "at least break even."

The 1953 sesquicentennial fair played to 489,000 visitors but lost more than $41,000, fair officials said.

The lad who broke all junior fair records is Ronald Musser. He placed entries in five classes and took blue ribbons in all five events. He showed the Ayrshire breed.

Ronald's entries won the heifer calf, junior yearling, senior yearlings, 2-year-old cow and aged cow events. His 2-year-old won the grand champion award and the senior yearling the reserve champion title in the Ayrshire class.

Earlier, his entries won the 3-year-old Ayrshire event, the 2-year-old cow event and the best-uddered event in open competition.

Yesterday's wins netted the boy eight blue ribbons.

Total attendance during the fair's first six days was 362,781, a 68,000 drop compared with a similar period last year. Attendance is down 41,000 below the 1952 figure.

Cool weather continued as the fair swung into its seventh day today, officially set as Governor's day.

Deputies Hunt Bomb-Minded Ohio Assailant

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies tracked through a heavily wooded area today for a bomb-minded person who twice within the past week has tried to kill a 42-year-old sawmill operator.

Deputy Howard Seith said the victim, Leonard Kempf, had been unable to supply a motive for the two attempts to kill him with homemade bombs.

Kempf apparently suffered no serious injuries, although he complained of being "in a daze" for several days after an explosive went off under his bedsprings on Aug. 25.

The second attempt, in which three sticks of dynamite were thrown against his house but failed to go off, occurred Tuesday night.

Deputy Seith gave these details:

Kempf, who lives alone in a heavily wooded section near Salineville, returned home after work on Aug. 25. In preparing to go to bed, he threw three magazines on the bed.

A terrific explosion shattered the bed, blasted a hole through the floor and knocked Kempf unconscious. His 18-year-old daughter, who lives with Kempf's parents, later found him on the floor and took him to a doctor and later to the sheriff.

On the second attempt, Kempf and a friend, Paul Bradley, 48, were sitting alone in the home. Kempf heard a thud on the window sill and saw a burning fuse. The two men ran outside in the darkness and found the three sticks of dynamite under the window.

The person apparently intended to throw the bomb through the window but hit the sill instead and the fuse was torn loose.

QUEEN ZIVA SHAPIR, 21, a native of Tel Aviv, was chosen queen of the Israel Annual Vintage Festival held at Zichron Yaacob, heart of the country's grape-growing center. The selection was made from a score of rivals.

HARDIN POLIO DRIVE

KENTON—Returns from Hardin County's emergency polio mothers' drive indicate total donations of $2,770.06 with three communities yet to report, Mrs. Donald Crooks, county polio drive chairman announced today. She said she hoped the drive would exceed the $3,000 mark, and believes there is a good chance since the Ridgeway, Forest, and Alger totals are not yet in.

YMCA Square Dancing Events To Start Again

Square dancing activities, scheduled to get under way this month at the YMCA, are being planned now and registrations will be accepted next week from children, young people and adults.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday have been set aside for accepting registrations, Marvin Ludwig, youth secretary, reported. All persons interested in taking part in the program are asked to register by telephone or in person during those three days according to their age and interest groups.

The square dance program, starting its second year in the new building, is under the direction of Mrs. Opal Gabler.

Times set aside for the various groups are as follows:

Elementary school children—beginners group, 1 p.m. or 2 p.m. Saturday; advanced group, 3:45 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Junior high school students—beginners group, 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, and 2 p.m. Saturday, if needed; advanced group, 6:30 p.m. Friday.

High school students—in conjunction with coed program on Tuesday evening.

Adults—beginners group, 7 p.m. Thursday; leaders club, 8 p.m. Thursday; and workshop, 9 p.m. Thursday.

Y Squares Club, composed of adults, will meet once a month on a Saturday evening yet to be selected. An open square dancing period will be scheduled on another Saturday evening each month.

A maximum of 40 persons to each class will be observed in order to provide aedequate instruction for everyone, Ludwig said. The beginners classes will last six weeks.

A fee of one dollar is being charged YMCA members for each group, while non-members' fee will be three dollars.

Did Mendes-France Act Too Fast?

France May Soon Regret Killing EDC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pierre Mendes-France, French premier and foreign minister, is an active man, swift and smart. He may find he was too active, too swift, and too smart.

He must take ultimate responsibility for the French Assembly's killing EDC — the European Defense Community — another name for the idea of a single European army.

Killing EDC put the Western Allies in a mess. Mendes-France may have felt this put France in a better position to bargain with them and therefore, from the French viewpoint, was shrewd business.

But the Allies reacted quickly: they want out of the mess in a hurry. The solution, if they ever find one, will take months or longer. In the end the French may wish they had bought EDC in the first place.

MENDES-FRANCE showed his speed early. He was in office only a month when he got a truce with the Communists in the eight-year-old Indochina war. Then he quieted the turbulent Tunisians, long under the French thumb, by offering home rule

Next he turned to EDC, which called for France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands to give up their national armies and pool them in a single European army under a unified command.

The United States and Britain urgently wanted EDC not only because it would unify defense against Russia on the Continent but would bring West Germany, with her manpower, into that defense as a Western military ally.

Although this meant letting Germany rearm, her manpower would be in a single army with her neighbors. She could have no national army. The French themselves had proposed this four years ago.

THEY SIGNED an agreement on it although there could be no EDC until the French Parliament and those of the other five nations approved. But in those two years no French premier until Mendes-France wanted to take a chance on a vote in Parliament.

The French politicians had developed: (A) fear of a Germany rearmed in any way; (B) fear that even though EDC was under unified command the Germans someday would control it; and (C) a yearning to keep a French national army

Since Russia didn't want an EDC or a rearmed Germany, the Communists in the French Parliament fought it too Nevertheless, Mendes-France put the question up to the Assembly. The vote was no.

It might have been different if he himself had pitched for EDC or even maneuvered a delay until support for EDC could be built up. He did neither.

In letting the Assembly wreck EDC, he may have figured

Rather than face the prospect of no EDC at all, the British, under American prodding, might now be willing to join EDC, which they have so far refused to do.

If that was his reasoning, he may have been shocked by what followed:

—:—

WEST GERMANY—Still occupied by the troops of the United States, Britain and France which retain a veto over the German government — has announced it wants both independence and the right to rearm, somehow.

The British Cabinet, in an emergency meeting yesterday, decided to push for limited German armament, and Secretary of State Dulles, who called the French defeat of EDC a tragedy, said this week the Western nations owe it to West Germany to let her have sovereignty and to let her rearm to some degree

At the moment three courses seem open:

1. France could reconsider and agree on EDC

2. A smaller EDC — minus France but including West Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and Italy — might be set up.

3. Or West Germany might be allowed to rearm — perhaps within agreed limits — and become the 15th member of NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, of which the United States, France and Britain are members

Mendes-France may have foreseen the unhappiness of the Western Allies and because of it try to strike a bargain that will please the French. He might be willing to buy No. 1 without a bargain if No 2 or No. 3 appears likely to happen

Navy Turboprop Plane Passes First Flight Test

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The Navy's new turboprop military version of the Super Constellation, the R7V2, has been successfully test flown

Lockheed Aircraft Corp., builder of the personnel-cargo-evacuation craft, says it is the world's fastest propeller-driven transport with a cruising speed of 440 m.p.h. It is powered by four 5,500-horsepower turbine propeller engines and can fly 16-ton loads across the nation nonstop in less than six hours.

The plane's maiden flight was made here yesterday.

REWARD OFFERED

CLEVELAND (AP)—A $1,000 reward was offered last night for information leading to the conviction of the slayer of Raymond G. Weihrouch, 36, beaten to death Aug. 24 near his home The offer was made jointly by the Iron Firemen Manufacturing Co. his employer, and by Local 515 of the CIO United Auto Workers, his union.

Pennsylvania Boy, 4, Has Enough of Hospital

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Artie Pullin, 4, had had enough of the hospital.

He underwent an emergency appendix operation at Crozer Hospital Friday. Yesterday, while his nurse was out of the room, he climbed out of his crib, slipped his bathrobe over his pajamas, stuffed lollipops, comic books, crayons, color books and a toy gun in a paper bag and sneaked out a side door. He had forgotten only his slippers.

Bus driver Herbert Fagley was among the first to spot him at a crossing, heading for the center of town.

The weight of the Earth is about 5,000 million million million tons.

Chili Supper Will Delight Any Family

Fluffy Rice Lends Zesty Flavor to Economical Meal Main Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Economical cuts of meat, like beef for stewing, make wonderful eating if you know what to do with them.

Ever use small cubes of beef-stew meat, instead of hamburger, in chili con carne? Seasoned with chili powder, the meat takes on a zesty flavor. Once you become a chili addict, you will probably serve it often.

Chili powder is a combination of a fruit (chili pepper), a seed (cumin), a leaf (oregano), a bulb (garlic) and a mineral (salt). Packaged, it is pretty well standarized as to strength; but if you buy it "loose," add it by teaspoonfuls because it may be "hotter" than you counted on.

We like to start a chili con carne supper with an appetizer of avocado and corn chips. Make sure the avocado is ripe and mash it fine with a fork; add finely diced onion, lime juice, salt and pepper to taste. Put a bowl of the avocado dip alongside the corn chips, and let people help themselves by scooping up the avocado with the chips.

Rice is a "must" with chili con carne. Crusty French bread is a good go-along, too; as is a tossed green salad. For dessert fruit is best.

CHILI CON CARNE

Ingredients: 1 pound boneless lean beef stew meat, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 2-3 cup chopped onion, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, 3 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon garlic powder, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, one 16- or 17-ounce can (2 cups) tomatoes (undrained), chili powder, one 1-pound can red kidney beans, 4 cups cooked rice.

Method: Cut meat into ½-inch cubes; place in saucepan or large skillet with butter, onion, and green pepper. Cook over moderately low heat, stiring often, until lightly browned—about 10 minutes. Add salt, sugar, garlic powder, pepper and tomatoes. Mix well. Stir in chili powder, 1 teaspoon at a time; taste after each addition so as to get desired seasoning. Cover; simmer until meat is tender—1 to 1½ hours. Add kidney beans and heat. Serve over rice. Makes 6 servings.

Note: ¼ to 1/3 cup of raw rice will yeild 1 cup of steamed rice.

CHILI CON CARNE. Zesty eating with fluffy rice.

KNOCKOUT

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Ralph W. Martin was fined $100 for assault and battery, despite his explanation that he hit the victim "but it was the sidewalk that knocked him out."

$2,500 Diamond Ring Goes Down Kitchen Sink

CONCORD, N. C. (UP)—The maid dumped a glassful of ammonia solution down the kitchen sink and Mrs. John O'Dell frantically called in a crew of plumbers.

Her 2,500 diamond ring was in the glass.

The plumbers placed a screen over the sewer feeder line from the block in which Mrs. O'Dell livs and cooperative neighbors turned on their water taps to flush the line.

Soon the ring was recovered.

HOSPITAL DRIVE PLANNED

CRESTLINE — The staff of Crestline Emergency Hospital will conduct a drive for a mile of dimes here, Sept. 9, 10 and 11 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The money will go toward a new hospital. Members of the staff will be stationed at various points in the town to receive donations.

Villagers Recall History Of Yearly Richwood Fair

RICHWOOD — The Richwood fairgrounds, which will be bustling with activity this weekend, have a history as colorful as the fair program itself.

Oldtimers of the Richwood area tell yet how in 1899, Frank James, brother of the notorious outlaw, Jesse James, and himself at one time a member of the bandit gang, was starter for the Richwood Fair races.

The 1954 Richwood Fair opens Saturday for a three-day program of racing, contests, parade and exhibits.

THE FIRST RICHWOOD FAIR was held in 1859 after a fair board was organized and a race track constructed. Three fairs were held at the site, east of the present elementary school building before the Civil War took the spotlight and the fairs had to be discontinued

Following the war, races were held at training tracks in the immediate area until 1890 when the present race track was constructed and three days of racing were sponsored in connection with the street fair. A fair board was established in 1892 to plan a yearly program and the Richwood Fair became a tradition until 1918 when World War I again halted fair plans. The village is one of the few area towns which annually sponsor their own independent fairs.

The opening day of the fair this year, Saturday, Sept. 4, will be highlighted with junior fair judging in the morning and harness race in the afternoon. A variety show will be presented in front of the grandstand that night.

Sunday at the Richwood Fair will be dedicated to Talent Day and all sort of talent contests, beauty contests, baton twirling shows and a parade with competitive divisions will be featured. A national baton twirling contest will start at 9 a.m. and last until noon. Following a half-hour religious service, a talent contest which is open to anyone from central Ohio, will be held. At 2 30 p.m., the Fairy Wonderland parade with divisions for a variety of entries, will take place. Trophies will be awarded in each class.

A BEAUTY CONTEST will be held at 4 p.m. with a queen being chosen for titles including Richwood Fair beauty queen, bathing beauty queen and majorette beauty. Following the coronation of the various queens, a strutting contest is scheduled for 5 p.m. and an out-of-state talent contest at 6 p.m.

The Marion Buckeye Four, Eagles national champion quartet, will entertain from 7-7:30 p.m. Radio and television entertainment will occupy the next half hour and at 8 p.m. a home talent show for any Ohioan who wishes to compete will be held.

On Labor Day, the last fair day, open class judging of cattle, swine and sheep will be held. At 2 p.m. four harness races with purses of $500 each will be run and at 7 p.m. a livestock and machinery parade will pass in review. Stock car races with seven events featuring $500 purses are planned for 8 p.m.

John Bell of Richwood is chairman of the program committee.

The fair midway will be lined with rides and concession stands and the Richwood Fair Lions Club members will be on hand to serve food.

For cattle and sheep in the Highlands of Scotland, heather often offers the only winter forage.

Safety Belts Tested

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UP) — The State Patrol is experimenting with automobile safety seat belts, similar to those used in airplanes.

The police unit has one of its cars equipped with safety belts, and users of the car reports satisfactory results.

The officers believe the belts should be attached to the frame of the car as well as to the seat. In many accidents, the seat is torn loose by the impact of the collision.

Kearsage, site of two New Hampshire state parks, was seen by the first explorers of the Merrimack Valley wilderness and recorded under the name of "Carasarga" in 1638.

THANK YOU . . .

to the patrons of the North and South Drive-In Theaters who contributed money during our recent civic endeavor to assist the "EMERGENCY POLIO DRIVE." A total of $895.00 was raised through your mutual co-operation. Thanks to All for the courtesies extended.

Sale of Midget Tractor Booms

NEW YORK (UP) — Small, compact tractors with the power of a bantamweight fighter have brought new popularity to home chores.

These versatile hot rods not only can till the soil but, with attachments, can even help paint the house or cut the winter wood. A southern farmer turns his machine loose high in his silo to run 'round and 'round like a mechanized jitterbug to pack the fodder and reduce spoilage, while a prospector in the northwest uses his vehicle to pan gold.

Steelways, official publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says this mechanized marvel, one of the most significant developments in agriculture during the past 50 years, is keeping more than 60 companies in full production.

Latest Department of Commerce figures show that nearly 200,000 garden tractors are being produced annually and take 20,000 tons of steel in the making. One firm is reported assembling them at the rate of one every six and one-half minutes.

Designing and working out the details of a practical midget tractor was a surprisingly tough job. They were being tailored for an army of backyard amateurs and had to be strong but lightweight, economical and trouble-free.

The tiny tractor filled a immediate need. Inexpensive, it could operate more cheaply than anything else in its class, including the horse. With the proper attachments, garden tractors can be used to mow, edge and roll the lawn, spread lime or fertilizer, hoe, mulch, spray, cut wood, drill holes, generate power, sow seeds, haul half-ton loads, scrape poultry houses or plow snow.

Over the three centuries 1650-1950, world population appears to have more than quadrupled.

Crackdown Successful

Tax Chiselers Hard-Hit By Department of Justice

By DAVID BARNETT

WASHINGTON (NANA) — The thorns are getting thicker and sharper along the tax evader's primrose path.

The number of convictions on tax charges obtained by the United States Department of Justice has increased sharply during the 18 months ended last July 31.

Policy changes that make it tougher for tax racketeers have been adopted.

And, federal judges, prodded by internal revenue officials, are beginning to impose more jail sentences.

All in all, says Sen. John J. Williams (R., Del.), the department, "is to be commended for the vigorous manner in which it has prosecuted tax cases in the past 18 months, and should be congratulated on the outstanding results which it has achieved."

—:—

SEN. WILLIAMS, as chairman of a congressional investigating subcommittee, uncovered some unconsciously forgetful officials in our tax structure. He asked the Department of Justice for some figures, on what had been done. The report showed that during the period from Jan. 20, 1953, through the end of the past fiscal year, 821 convictions in criminal tax cases had been obtained. During the previous 18 months, the total was 505.

The most recent of the "important" convictions was that of Joseph D. Nunan Jr., the former Commissioner of Internal Revenue, who was found guilty last June 29 of evading $91,086 in his own income taxes.

The most notable changes made in policy involved:

1. The health policy. Until February, 1953, it was the practice of the department not to institute criminal proceedings on tax evasion charges when "it was made to appear" that such a trial would "substantially endanger" the life of the accused. The attorney-egeneral, on Feb. 10, 1953 decreed that the health of a prospective defendant would no longer be taken into account in deciding whether he should be prosecuted for tax evasion.

(The Internal Revenue Service, in December 1951, stopped taking health into consideration in referring cases to the Justice Department for criminal action).

2. Pleas of nolo contendere. This is a plea by the defendant which, without admitting guilt, subjects him to conviction but does not preclude him from denying the truth of the charges in a collateral proceeding.

In the past, government attorneys rarely objected to the acceptance of such pleas by the court and they became very common in tax cases.

A YEAR AGO, however, the government noted that some courts regarded acquiesence in the plea by federal lawyers as justification for greater leniency. Last Aug. 27, United States attorneys were instructed not to consent to such pleas except in rare situations.

3. Conference procedure. Normally, persons suspected of criminal violations of the tax law are granted conferences at which they can go over the charges and try to convince the government of their innocence.

The department recently became aware of the fact that some taxpayers were using conferences to delay action on their cases.

A policy has been adopted granting no more than one conference in the tax division in a criminal case except in unusual circumstances.

Among the more important tax prosecutions handled by the department in the past 18 months, in addition to the Nunan case, were:

Dennis W. Delaney, former collector of internal revenue, district of Massachusetts, sentenced June 26, 1953, on tax evasion charges.

Paul Dillon, who in 1947 gained notoriety for activities in securing federal paroles for four former members of the so-called Capone syndicate, sentenced for income tax evasion last March 22.

Vincent W. Hallinan, 1952 Progressive Party presidential candidate, sentenced last Dec. 8 for income tax evasion.

Frank Costello, the New York racketeer, convicted of tax evasion in what the department called a case "based on the most difficult and meticulous preparation, requiring an indirect method of proof."

Harry Gross, the bookmaker who confessed in 1950 to having paid more than $900,000 a year in bribes to New York police officers, found guilty last May 7 of wilfully failing to file an income tax return.

Frank A. Erickson, reputed to be the country's betting "commissioner," sentenced on June 16, 1953, for tax evasion.

Arthur H. Samish, the influential California lobbyist, found guilty last Nov. 17 of income tax evasion.

L. B. Binion, gambling racketeer in the southwest, sentenced to prison last Dec. 14 for tax evasion.

Sen. Williams pointed out that in many instances tax prosecutions "were the only means whereby notorious but wary kingpins of the underworld could be successfully reached by the law."

The Right Man

OMAHA (UP) — A man who hadn't seen his brother in 32 years sent a letter to the police department here in an effort to locate him

Leroy Bessler, of the Omaha detective bureau, received the letter and sent the reply—to his brother, Harold, in Pontiac, Mich.

"It's just one of those things," said Leroy. "The last time I saw Harold was when he was best man at my wedding 32 years ago."

Bessler is a sergeant with the missing persons department.

Need More Guards, Officer Says

Dope Peddlers Find U.S. Ports Easy To Penetrate

NEW YORK (NANA) — Illicit drugs, turning teenage addicts into thieves and prostitutes, flow through "inadequately guarded" American ports and "wide - open borders," guards here charged.

"It is far too easy for smugglers to bring drugs into the United States," said Lynn Fairfax, a Port Patrol officer for more than seventeen years.

"Take the seaman who was caught trying to smuggle $550,000 worth of heroin from a ship in Jersey City. He was trapped by a Port Patrol officer who saw white powder coming from his trouser leg as he walked off the pier. But that officer was not stationed on that pier—no officer was.

"The patrolman was on roving duty, covering a number of piers. It was only pure luck that he happened to be there when the seaman came off the ship with the heroin. If the smuggler had left the ship twenty minutes earlier or later, he would not have been caught.

Mr. Fairfax declared that of 12,000 ships entering our ports every year, fewer than 20 per cent were inspected adequately.

MRS. DUNCAN O'BRIEN of Flushing, N. Y., a member of the Teenage Narcotics Committee of the Health and Welfare Council of New York City, said recently:

"All narcotics come from outside the United States. No amount of work done by enforcement officers within the country, can substantially reduce the number of narcotic addicts unless the paths by which the drugs enter the United States are blocked."

Harry J. Anslinger, Federal Commissioner of Narcotics has said the number of dope addicts of all ages has increased from 48,000 in 1949 to 60,000 in 1954.

The New York City police narcotics squad has been increased from fewer than twenty men in 1947 to more than 120 men in 1954. The Federal Bureau of Narcotics also has increased its enforcement personnel.

—:—

BUT MEANWHILE THE Port Patrol division of the Federal Bureau of the Customs repeatedly has been decimated while the flow of narcotics has increased.

Every port in the nation has been stripped of Port Patrol officers—the men who do most of the work against the international dope rings.

The country's border patrols were abolished in 1948.

In 1946 there were 1,672 officers protecting our ports of entry from narcotics. Today there are only 650 men for the same job. In 1947 there were 844 men guarding the Port of New York against dope. Today there are only 270 men to patrol New York's 671 miles of waterfront.

There are only 47 Port Patrol officers in Boston and the Bureau of Customs, according to Mr. Fairfax, is considering cutting six men from this force.

Mr. Fairfax declared:

"About 2,000 Port Patrol officers could do a good job of protecting the country against the flood of narcotics that is ruining our youth. These men probably could stop about 60 per cent of the attempts to smuggle narcotics.

"Such a force would cost less than $10,000,000 a year. If the national government does not spend this amount on the job, local and state governments will have to spend far more trying to catch up with the drugs after they have entered the country."

MR. FAIRFAX BELIEVES the country's borders now present a greater problem than the seaports. "There is nothing to stop smugglers from bringing in narcotics across our borders by the trunkful," he said.

The port patrolman explained that since the Port Patrol had never been established by statute, the Customs Bureau is permitted to use any method it likes to stop smuggling. For this reason, according to Mr. Fairfax, the Port Patrol usually has absorbed a large part of any budget cut received by the Customs Bureau.

David B. Strubinger, acting Commissioner of Customs, told the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives recently that the bureau was relying on offering rewards for tips about the smuggling of narcotics to stop the illicit drug flow.

Rep. Eugene J. Keogh of Brooklyn, N. Y., introduced a bill into the first session of the 83rd Congress which would establish the Port Patrol by law. The bill, HR 4033, was referred to the House committee on ways and means. Mr. Fairfax said there was little chance for it to be passed.

Chef in Paris Particular With French Dressings

PARIS — (UP) — French dressing? Why there's nothing to it, the average housewife will say. It's a mixture of oil, vinegar, salt and pepper.

But how wrong she can be.

Ask the chef at a leading Paris restaurant how he makes his dressing and a reflective gleam comes into his eye.

The chef at Maxim's, the gold and glitter restaurant of the Paris haute monde, says modestly:

"There's no secret to our salad dressing."

"But," he adds, "we use the purest olive oil."

Yes, and the vinegar employed at Maxim's is made from vintage wines and allowed to age for several years in the aristocratic company of Napoleon brandies and fine champagnes in the Maxim cellars until it reaches maturity.

Two-thirds of U. S. livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River and two-thirds of the meat supply is eaten east of the river. Texas leads in beef cattle and sheep and lambs, and Iowa ranks first in hog production.

Afghanistan's Ruins May Date From 2600 B.C.

NEW DELHI (UP) — A French archeological expedition to Afghanistan has discovered a city believed to be almost 4,500 years old 100 feet beneath the country's sandy wastes in the Indus Valley about 400 miles south of Kandshar, an Indian member of the expedition said here.

The Indian, 40-year-old Sumarasingha Kaviratne, an engineer at the Hindustan aircraft factory in Bangalore, accompanied the team led by Dr. John-Marie Casal. Kaviratne said the work has been suspended until September because of bad weather conditions.

The site was the oldest yet discovered in Afghanistan, and the type of houses, roads, pottery and rude bronze statues already unearthed indicated that the city was a contemporary of other Indus Valley cities which flourished nearly 5,000 years ago.

He described the site as picturesquely situated 4,000 feet above sea level—on a 20-square mile plateau, at the base of which is a broad, dried-up river bed. The area, now almost inaccessible, is surrounded on three sides by high mountains, he said. Some distance away is the small town of Mundijak, where the temperature rises to 80 degrees in the day and drops to below freezing at night.

Already, he said, two sites have been excavated, together covering an area of one square mile. It will take about five years to complete the work, according to Kaviratne.

He marvelled at the preciseness of the architectural design of the buildings and the almost modern aspects of the pillars, corridors and steps. He claimed that the buildings were so well preserved that even the white plaster, the red bricks and the paint on the walls were still to be seen in their vivid colors. He said that the discoveries indicated that the civilization was of the early Paleolithic era.

This theory has been supported by carbon tests of organic matter taken from the site which placed the period at about 2,000 to 2,600 B.C.

While he could not bring away many relics from the ancient city, he was able to show a well-preserved piece of pottery.

Kaviratne said that he was first invited to join the French team in 1951, but after several months of search he had to return to his work at Bangalore. Shortly afterwards the other members, including Mme. Casal, archaeologist wife of the leader, and M. Dumarcay, an expert in ancient architecture, discovered the historic site. Dr. Casal, he said, had set out on his expedition on the assumption that there must be other cities of contemporary antiquity with the Indus Valley cities. This, he said, has now been proved.

The headquarters of the mission is at Kandahar, second largest city in Afghanistan, about 400 miles north of the historic site. Kaviratne made another trip this year and spent two months with the team.

The expedition is financed by the French government. Kaviratne said the whole dramatic story will not be fully unfolded for another four or five years.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — (UP) —Thirty years ago someone stole the motor from an ice-cutting machine used by Francis Daley.

Daley recently received a letter, postmarked Kansas City. Inside was cash in the amount of $70 and an explanation from the anonymous sender that he was "sorry."

Daley estimated that his machine was worth about $50 when it was stolen, and that the $70 more than paid for it, plus interest.

Toronto Starts Costly 10-Year Improvements

TORONTO (UP) — The opening of Canada's first subway marked the first of 23 major developments which will change the face of Toronto in the next 10 years.

Millions of dollars worth of projects have been definitely ordered and the money will actually be spent by 1964.

By that time, planners estimate, metropolitan Toronto will have a population of 1,750,000, compared with 1,250,000 this year. The area has been growing at the rate of 50,000 a year for the past five years.

Here are the major projects planned to follow the $50,000,000 Yonge Street subway:

1. Four super highways to ease traffic congestion in the metropolitan area, which already has more cars per capita than all but two other North American cities. They are the $40,000,000 Lakeshore expressway, the $11,500,000 Spadina road express into the heart of New York, the $3,750,000 Eglinton Ave. extension, and the $12,000,000 Don Valley parkway into Scarborough. In addition, the Toronto bypass from the Queen Elizabeth Way to Highland Creek will be finished and the Barrie highway will be extended south to Eglinton Ave.

2. The St. Lawrence seaway should be extended south to Eglinton Ave. Toronto's harbor will be an immediate result. It will stimulate trade and encourage industry to settle here.

3. The Civic Square, planned for the area west of the present city hall across Bay Street and north from Queen Street, should be completed by 1964.

4. The islands on Toronto's doorstep face a rosier and drier future. The Metropolitan government has plans to develop them as a park and recreation center, raising "the level, protecting the shoreline, enlarging the regatta course and building a bridge over the Eastern Gap to replace the ferries.

5. A rash of redevelopment plans have been announced for the area around the subway between College and Bloor Streets, and construction will start this year on at least one batch of skyscraper apartments.

6. The original Regent Park housing development for 1,300 families will be completed in 1956, and the next stage of the slum-clearance program on 36 acres south of Dundas Street is expected to start then.

7. There'll be more housing, some of it financed by the metropolitan and provincial governments.

8. A tunnel under downtown Queen Street may well be carrying streetcars by 1964. The $12,000,000 tube is next in the Toronto Transit Commission's plans.

9. The metropolitan government's green belt policy should make the valleys of the Humber and Don Rivers pleasant parks by 1964.

10. The multi-million-dollar expansion of water and sewage facilities will be more than half completed by 1964. They should eliminate wells and septic tanks.

11. Three parking garages will be built in downtown Toronto in the next two or three years to relieve the parking problem.

12. The metropolitan government is providing four homes for the aged at a total cost of $10,000,000. The first will be started next year at Newmarket.

Lets Fly Roam

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP) — The next time George Eltgroth decides to go after a fly roaming his bedroom, he'll think twice before using a towel as a weapon.

The 40-year-old Syracuse man bagged his prey with a swipe of the towel, but he also shattered a light bulb and sent his wife to a hospital.

One of the fragments of the smashed bulb pierced Mrs. Eltgroth's thigh and the wound required stitches.

Roses of Remembrance

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — The anniversary of the founding of the Crime Prevention Bureau here is remembered because two dozen roses show up every year.

For 10 years now, police have been trying to find out who has sent the roses every year since the bureau was founded on June 15, 1943.

They arrived this year as usual.

Pineapple Makes a Variety of Desserts

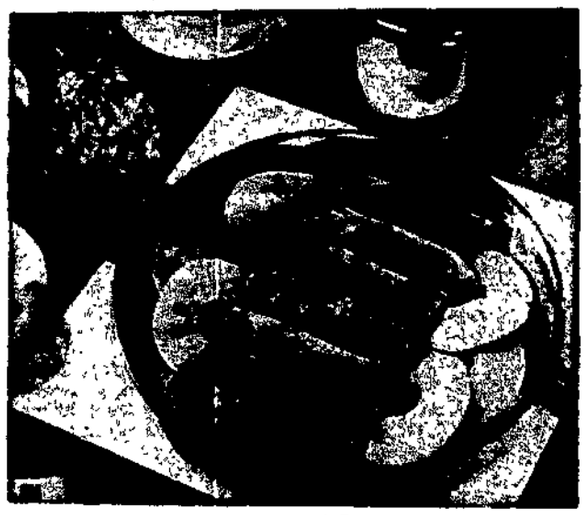
Sundaes, Pancake Rolls With Sauce Are Ideal, Tasty Party Fare

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

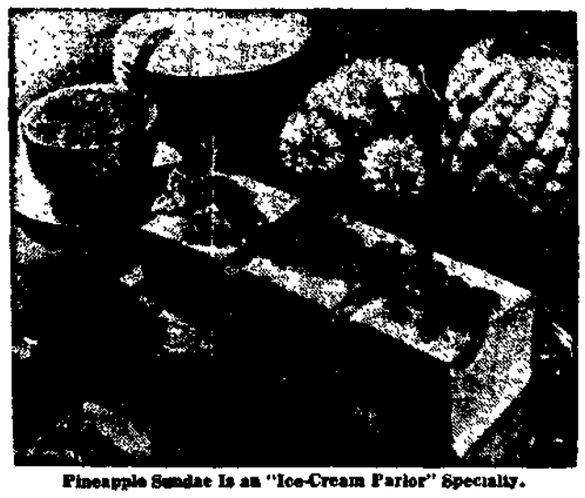
Readers tell us that they are always in the market for party desserts. So here are two—both using that year-round boon, canned pineapple.

The first one combines ice cream with an "ice-cream parlor" sauce. You know the kind in which the pineapple tastes slightly candied, and that teen-agers love on banana splits? If you have always wanted to achieve just that flavor and consistency at home, do try this recipe. Use prepackaged pineapple ice cream (or another flavor) with this sauce; the ice cream comes in halfgallon cartoons (for parties) as well as pints (for small-family use).

The second party dessert is a version of the French Crepes Suzette. Thin pancakes are fried, one at a time, in a small skillet and then heated in a pineapple sauce. The sauce calls for a small can of pineapple and utilizes the syrup as well as the fruit.



French Pancake Rolls With Pineapple Sauce.



Pineapple Sundae Is an "Ice-Cream Parlor" Specialty.

ICE-CREAM PARLOR PINEAPPLE SUNDAE

Ingredients: One No. 2 can crushed pineapple, ¼ cup light corn syrup, ½ cup sugar, 3 pints pre-packaged pineapple ice cream.

Method: Drain pineapple; if necessary, add enough water to the syrup to make ½ cup. Put the pineapple syrup in a small saucepan with the corn syrup and sugar; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Boil 5 minutes. Cool; add pineapple and stir until liquid is of even consistency; it may be candylike at first. To serve, place ice cream on chilled serving platter; put several spoonfuls of pineapple sauce over top; pass remaining sauce. Makes 12 servings.

CREPES ANANAS

Ingredients: 2-3 cup sifted flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, dash of salt, 2 eggs, 2 egg yolks, 1¼ cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), extra butter, Ananas sauce.

Method: Sift together flour, sugar and salt. Beat eggs and egg yolks together until thick and pale colored; beat in milk. Add egg mixture to sifted dry ingredients; beat until smooth; make sure there are no lumps. Stir in melted butter. Let stand about 2 hours. To make crepes, melt about ¼ teaspoon of butter in an 8-inch skillet so there is a good coating all over the pan. Heat skillet until very hot; pour in about two generous tablespoons of the batter; lift skillet from heat immediately and tilt to spread batter all over bottom of pan. When set and browned on underside, turn and brown other side. Turn out crepes onto board or tea towel; do not stack. Roll crepes and put in buttered suzette pan or on heatproof platter. Keep warm over an alcohol or canned - heat burner or in a warm oven. Serve with sliced pineapple heated in Ananas Sauce. Makes about 16 crepes.

ANANAS SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 flat can sliced pineapple, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons sugar, grated rind of 1 orange, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: Drain syrup from pineapple; add lemon juice, sugar, orange rind and butter to it. Cut pineapple slices in half and add to sauce. Heat. In serving, pour sauce around crepes and garnish with pineapple slices. Makes almost 2 cups—enough for 12 servings.

Colors of Cheops Eyed For Women's Clothing

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UP) — The 14 colors of Cheops will be featured in the holiday line of blouses by a leading textile manufacturer.

Taking its cue from renewed interest in Egypt because of the discovery of Cheops' solar ship, researchers announced reproductions of the authentic colors used during the dramatic fourth dynasty of the Pharoahs.

The colors are papyrus, pink gypsum, solar blue, Nile Delta, cedarwood, pharoah gold, scarab coral, royal amethyst, celestial blue, turquoise treasure, sycamore, osiris blue, sphinx and Egyptian night.

The next total eclipse of the sun will be June 20, 1955, and will be visible over southeastern Asia and the Philippines.

Women Filling Up Australia's 'Last Frontier'

SYDNEY — (UP) — A subtle change is taking place in the lonely north of Australia — the continent's "last frontier" — and the crusty hard-bitten "bushmen" and prospectors are not too happy about it.

For women are invading "The Territory"—vast "heart" of Australia as big as New South Wales and Victoria but without statehood. In pre-war days men outnumbered women three to one in this area. Now the ratio is something like 10 to seven. And the birthrate in the Northern Territory, once lowest in Australia, now is higher than in the thickly populated southern states.

Hand - in - hand with this invasion has gone a steady improvement in the standard of living. This, in turn, attracts more families to the region. Commenting on the change, Minister for Territories Paul M. Hasluck said:

"We have passed the age of the mattock, tent and donkey team, and are in the age of the power-wagon, airplane, bulldozer, refrigerator and radio

"The standard of living and the way of living are more like the rest of Australia than they used to be. Doctors and hospitals are within reach of the population through aerial ambulance, and preventive and protective health measures are now being taken Expenditure on health services has nearly trebled in the last four years."

Hasluck said that in the past four years nearly $5,500,000 was spent on housing for the area, though a big improvement is still needed in the standard of housing.

"We have to get rid of the old Australian habit of thinking that the only people who live in the remote areas are a few deadbeats surrounded by clouds of flies," he said.

Pointing to the steady increase in white population in the Northern Territory, Hasluck added:

"There is a change more impressive than the increase in numbers; today families are living in the north. The test of the value of development is the kind of community it produces. Today more than 2,000 children are attending school in the territory, and during the last three years about $2,240,000 in private capital has been spent on building."

He said the standard of housing on the remote stations (ranches) in particular had undergone a striking improvement.

"While the pioneering of the north will always call for great qualities of character in the pioneer, we cannot afford to wait for the one man in a hundred to come along to endure and conquer on his own," he said.

"The north has to be made safe and habitable for the family, otherwise most of the population will be shiftless and adventurous, while a depressed minority will be hopeless and feckless."

The area's main hopes for development, Hasluck added, are the discoveries of valuable uranium, gold, copper and wolfram deposits, the prospecting for oil and a big improvement in the beef industry and other farming pursuits.

Alaska Accident Becomes Complicated Police Case

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UP)—City police can't decide what charge they should place against a motorist — auto theft, leaving the scene of an accident or taking the accident away from the scene.

The motorist apparently locked bumpers with a car belonging to the Territorial Department of Welfare, then smashed the grill and towed the vehicle for two blocks with the locked bumpers before separating the two cars.

There is one important catch to it. First the culprit must be caught. Police have no idea who he is.

BIGGER SAFER

CHICAGO (INS) — Small manufacturing plants may be friendly places to work but the big ones are safer, according to the National Safety Council. "Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook, says that the average injury rates for smaller plants is substantially higher than that for the larger plants.

WARM BATH

LANCASTER, N. Y. (UP)—Seventeen-year-old Joyce Chiuppi saw smoke through the bathroom window, but thought something was burning in an ashcan. She continued to loll in her cool bath until a fireman banged on the bathroom door, tossed her a robe and told her to get out fast. The house was on fire.

Company Seeks Action by U.S. For Old Debts

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Five million dollars is a pretty fair sum of money, just as $700,000 was 154 years ago.

And 154 years ago, the Insurance Company of North America asked $700,000 from the United States as a just debt. It never got it.

So it plans another try for the debt which it now places at $5,000,000 as the result of interest piling up over the years. That's in the face of a rejection by the U. S. court of claims of the company's request for that sum.

The company was organized in 1794 and insured cargoes on American ships. The French navy, blockading British ports, seized ships and cargo. In 1800, the United States signed a treaty with France Under its terms, France dropped certain claims and the United States agreed to release claims of its citizens against France.

North America asked the U. S government for the $700,000 damages but couldn't collect.

The company claimed that it had support for payment by congressional actions on many occasions, but each time the bill to pay reached the floor someone objected. North America always was invited to try again—with the next Congress.

The company now contends that an act of 1948 gives it the right to make a complete claim. The court of claims said "no" on June 8, and the company now plans to appeal for a rehearing. If it fails?

Well, the company says, there's always the U. S. Supreme Court.

BEGGING BARRED

PARIS (INS) — "Iskra" a Bulgarian newspaper, recently published a government decree against begging in Bulgaria. The new law calls for severe fines not only for beggars but also for persons who give them alms. Heads of factories or business firms who permit begging in their organizations are liable to heavy fines.

LIP 'FALSIES'

LONDON (INS) — Wigmakers report a new fad developing among young men about town — the wearing of false mustaches. The youngsters, hoping to add a bit of "dash" to their appearance are buying mustaches to sport on smart occasions like Ascot racing week, debutante parties and society balls.

Atmospheric Gas Shield Aids in Beating Off Heat

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) —In hot weather you can be thankful for at least one thing—a thin shield of gas in the upper atmosphere.

If it weren't for that shield, General Electric Co., scientists say, you'd really be burned up.

A relatively narrow layer of ozone intercepts the sun's ultraviolet rays and prevents the more deadly ones from reaching the earth.

Longer rays penetrate the ozone and are responsible for sunburn. But all life on earth would be destroyed, if the ultraviblet could penetrate the extremely small amount of ozone.

Women Shouldering New Duty in Home

NEW YORK (UP) — Whoever labelled 'em "the weaker sex" used the wrong term.

A survey on who's doing most of the work in these days of do-it-yourself mania shows it's the women.

The research department of the Georgia-Pacific Plywood Co. did a six-month study of 9,000 Americans whose homes are valued from $10,000 to $25,000 to find how the labor load is distributed.

"Women do 41 per cent of the work, men are responsible for 27 per cent and the rest is a cooperative family endeavor," said the president, Owen R. Cheatham.

Women get the ideas too. The company found that "79 per cent of present-day home improvements are initiated by women."

And the gals aren't grabbing off the simple jobs like painting the porch swing or slip - covering a chair. The check showed they're painting the exterios and interiors of houses, landscaping grounds, installing tile floors and plywood walls, shingling and insulating houses, wallpapering rooms, making furniture and even doing some of the plumbing.

Gas Pipeline Completed by Ohio Fuel Co.

A new million dollar pipeline, extending across the southern part of Crawford and Richland counties, has just been completed, it was announced today by C. L. Baxter, Marion manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The new Ohio Fuel pipeline will improve service in northwestern Ohio, through delivery of greater volumes of gas to Toledo, Bowling Green, Findlay, North Baltimore, Fostoria, Tiffin, Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus, Marion, Kenton and Lima, Baxter said.

The line extends 24½ miles from Weaver Compressor Station, southeast of Mansfield, to near Crestline. There it joins other main transmission lines to the northwest.

It is 20-inches in diameter, the same size as the "Little Big Inch" pipeline built during World War II.

The new line provides a "shortcut" from Ohio Fuel's Weaver and Holmes storage areas to northwestern Ohio cities.

This will be particularly important during the coming winter when there is a tremendous demand for gas to heat homes, Baxter said. More than half the gas used by Ohio Fuel customers on a cold winter day comes from underground storage, he explained.

The Ohio Pipeline Construction Co., Granville, built the new line for Ohio Fuel. Supervising construction were Lloyd Eichhorn of Galion, district foreman of Ohio Fuel's Pipe Line Department, and J. C. Brandenberry, Shelby, chief inspector. Total cost of the new line was $1,072,000.

Another new and larger Ohio Fuel transmission line, costing nearly a million dollars, was recently completed between New Riegel in Seneca County and North Baltimore in Wood County. It too will help deliver greater quantities of gas this winter to Toledo, Bowling Green, Findlay, Fostoria, Van Buren and North Baltimore.

Bucyrus Youth Placed On Probation for Theft

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Juvenile Judge Constance R. Keller announced here today that a 12-year-old Bucyrus youth has been placed on probate for an indefinite period following a hearing before her on charges of bicycle theft.

The youth was accused by Bucyrus police of stealing three bicycles. He was taken into custody Aug. 22 after he had taken a bicycle from Schine's Bucyrus Theater, police said.

Judge Keller also disclosed that no action was taken in the case of a 17-year-old Bucyrus youth, who was arrested by the state highway patrol on a speeding charge, because the youth is leaving next week for service with the armed forces.

CONTINUE STRIKE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fifty crane operators and furnace changers last night continued a strike at Republic Steel Corp.'s Corrigan-McKinney plant, idling another 400 employes. Union spokesmen could not be reached for comment. The company said the strike was unauthorized. Reportedly at issue were shortened work hours and assignment grievances.

Marion Woman Suffers Burns In Fire at Home

A Marion woman was slightly injured in a fire in her apartment on S. State St. Wednesday evening. Mrs. R. H. Lewis of 255 S. State St. received first degree burns about her face and was overcome by smoke in a fire which caused an estimated loss of $1,000 to contents of the room and to the building.

She was admitted to Marion City Hospital where she is in "good" condition this morning. Firemen report the fire began when a lit cigaret fell into an overstuffed chair in the apartment.

The chair, rugs, lamps, and other contents of the room were damaged, with loss placed at about $500. Another $500 damage was done to the walls and ceiling of the room. Mrs. Lewis was overcome by smoke and treated by the inhalator squad before being taken to the hospital in a Boyd ambulance.

Men from the Central station extinguished the blaze.

Men from the Mark Street station were called upon to extinguish two fires yesterday afternoon. One was at 2:33 p.m. in front of 593 Catherine Ave. where rubbish in a city truck caught fire. No damage was reported.

No loss was reported when the Mark Street firemen were called to the National Limestone Co. at the north end of Fountain St. at 5:55 p.m. Officials report that either a tramp or playing children had set fire to an abandoned pressure plant building.

No One Can Be Proud

Republicans and Democrats on the Senate subcommittee that investigated the Army-McCarthy controversy came forth with the only kind of a report possible under the circumstances.

Reviewing the "evidence" piled up in 36 days of helter-skelter hearings, the majority and minority agreed on one thing: No one can be proud of what happened.

That same conclusion was reached by the general public long before the hearings ended last June 17. Nothing in the official report of the most damaging disclosure ever made of what happens inside government when personal pull is substituted for equality under the law has changed the impression that everybody involved in the Army-McCarthy controversy over Pvt. G. David Schine and the hunt for Communists at Fort Monmouth owes the taxpayers an apology.

Trying to split up the majority and minority reports into their component parts is as confusing as trying to sort out the main issues from the side issue in the evidence itself.

But in a few areas, the Republicans and Democrats were of one mind.

Both sides agreed that Roy Cohn was out of line when he used his position as subcommittee counsel to get special favors for Pvt. Schine. Republicans chided Sen. McCarthy as subcommittee chairman for not having exercised "more vigorous discipline" over Cohn. Democrats found that there was little to choose between Cohn and McCarthy.

Since Cohn resigned soon after the hearings ended and his resignation now would be imperative, he apparently foresaw the consequences of the hearings.

The other charge in the controversy was that Army Secretary Stevens and John G. Adams, Department counselor, used Schine as a hostage to stop Sen. McCarthy's investigation of Communists at Fort Monmouth. Here again, both sides could agree. There was evidence pointing in that direction, although neither Stevens nor Adams was motivated by "softness" toward Communists. It is at this point that an omission in the report reflects the source of most of the bitterness in the McCarthy controversy. It is silent on what motivated Stevens and Adams to go to such extreme lengths to try to get along with Sen. McCarthy.

They feared his political power, not what he might find at Fort Monmouth. When they failed to appease him, they revealed in front of the scenes what had been going on behind the scenes. The net result was to shock the country into disgusted awareness of personal government.

If every mother's son called on to wear the uniform of the republic had to be coddled like Pvt. Schine because of personal connections, there would be no need to save the republic from its external enemies. Its internal enemies would have ruined it from the inside out.

Era of Tempered Reasoning

A visit to Washington these days leaves the impression, even to the casual observer, that a decided change has come over the nation's capital. The city, itself, is no longer what it was a few short months ago. It has settled down.

Gone is the era of hectic confusion in government circles. Gone is the daily crisis. Gone is the cycle of emergency followed by emergency. The tempo now is one of steady advance toward a definite goal. The emphasis is on productive and effective work, intended to get the job done.

Without doubt, this is the result of a pattern laid down by the Eisenhower administration. It reflects a planned and considered approach to the biggest job on earth, running this country. It is in sharp contrast to prior years when no one knew what to expect from day to day.

President Eisenhower has brought to the White House a concept of administration new in his generation. He himself is a hard worker. He has shown that he has a talent for handling a multitude of details in an orderly manner. He has displayed a quality of calm reasoning in meeting problems, whether major and critical in nature or minor and annoying. He has substituted persuasion for pressure.

The President asked the 83rd Congress to initiate a broad legislative program. There were a number of major questions to be considered in that program — tax revision, peacetime atomic energy, farm subsidies, foreign aid, the nation's health, the debt limit, and Communist control. And there were a great many more items of a minor but important nature. The President didn't get everything he wanted. True, he scored a complete victory on some points. He won in varying degree on others. He lost completely on some of his requests.

But he isn't bitter toward those members of Congress who didn't vote 100 per cent for his proposals. He isn't threatening to purge those of his own party who didn't go along with him on every issue. Instead, he thanked Congress for what it had accomplished, and promised that he would keep on working for the balance of his program. And Congress, in keeping with the pattern, thanked its administration leaders, regardless of party affiliation, for a job well done.

It looks as though an era of tempered reasoning has begun to take over in our national affairs.

Reds Betray France

By David Lawrence

Communist Bloc Defeats EDC in Assembly

Whatever doubts have been expressed as to the wisdom of the virtually unanimous action of Congress in stripping the Communist party of its legal right to exist as a political party must have been swept away by the news dispatches from Paris telling how a bloc of 100 Communists sitting in the French National Assembly furnished the majority to kill the Allied plan for the defense of Europe.

Few Americans realize that the Communist party in France, which has been permitted to infiltrate labor unions and French cultural institutions, now has all the rights of any other political party there. It has elected 100 deputies to the French Parliament, and they contribute from their salaries to finance the Communist party. Their allegiance is more often to the Soviet government than to France.

This was dramatically illustrated not long ago when the French National Assembly rose in tribute to the fallen heroes of Dienbienphu in Indochina — but the 100 Communist deputies sat in silence.

The final vote rejecting the European Defense Community agreement was 319 to 264. But if the bloc of Communist votes — there were 99 present — were substracted, it would make the vote 264 in favor of the EDC treaty to 220 against it.

THE PRESENCE of the Communist bloc inside the French Parliament means that a Soviet - controlled group holds the balance of power in the government of one of America's principal allies, on whose territory many of our soldiers are based and where atomic weapons are necessarily located.

The French attitude, generally speaking, toward Communists in government is not as hostile as it is in America. There has been a well-defined effort lately to keep Communists out of the executive departments in Paris but, in a government where the legislature controls the executive departments, no cabinet is apparently willing to demand that Communists be deprived of their status as a political party.

There have been no parliamentary investigating committees in France to sound a warning and alert the French people to the dangers of Communist infiltration. Instead, the Communist party is accepted as a political entity rather than a conspiracy. This lack of awareness of the danger of allowing a group of deputies who are fostering the policies of a foreign power to occupy the legitimate status of a political party is one of the strangest paradoxes in French history.

One explanation given is that many of the Communist deputies were prominent in the French underground during the period that the Nazis occupied France and that they became popular because of their wartime devotion to the cause of France. But little by little some French leaders have been disillusioned, and it will not be surprising if a new issue arises now in France —to find a way to outlaw the Communist party.

SOME STEPS have been taken in the last few years to cut down Communist representation by a change in the electoral law which reduces for the Communists the number of seats in proportion to the votes cast — a rule that does not affect non-Communist parties. But this apparently has not been enough to eliminate the Communist power.

Today, the 100 Communist deputies are a controlling bloc in the French Parliament. They have just been able to win for Soviet Russia one of its biggest diplomatic victories, as it is well known that Soviet propaganda and Communist partisans in France have worked for months to force a truce in Indochina and to defeat EDC.

As so often happens with a conspicuous issue, it is true that the EDC had many weaknesses which made it possible for nationalistic feelings to be aroused. The Communists merely exploited an unpopular plan, or rather one that was played up as likely to give Germany a change to rebuild its armament and attack France.

WITH OR WITHOUT any type of EDC plan, the rearmament of Germany has become essential to the defense of Europe. It will be interesting now to see how the Communists maneuver French policy to prevent, if possible, the adoption of any formula for German rearmament by the countries allied against Soviet Russia.

What they have needed in France is a few French McCarthys and, if they had had them, maybe the free world and the western alliance would be stronger today.

For the Communist party in France is not a political party—it is a full-fledged "fifth column" not unlike the one by which the Nazis penetrated the French Parliament and army prior to 1940 and thereby brought about the easy conquest of France.

Without Benefit of Training

By TRUMAN TWILL

This fellow who dropped in today wanted to know about training dogs. "You have had experience," he said. "How do I keep a six - month - old cocker spaniel some friends gave us from barking all night?"

We asked whether he ever had owned or trained a dog. When he said this was his first dog, the lid was off. We could speak freely. He didn't know what he was talking about and neither did we.

It is possible to have a lifetime of experience with dogs and still not know anything about training them, the same as it is possible to have children and still know nothing about training them.

In order to train a dog, you must be smart enough to know what to do, and the dog must be smart enough to get the hang of what you are doing. Put a dum dog and a dumb owner together and they'll never get anywhere. Put a smart dog and a dumb owner together, likewise. Or a dumb dog and a smart owner together, also likewise.

It could not have been that all the dogs we have had were dumb. Some of them must have been smart. Yet, there hasn't been a trained dog in the lot. Some have possessed unusual aptitudes, like the one that can tell when it is time to go to bed and another one that could tell one automobile from another. But these were outcroppings of native intelligence.

We cannot make a dog lie down without grabbing it by two legs, wrestling it to the floor and holding it there. We cannot make a dog come when called without going into a protracted discourse that sounds like this: "Come here, Rover, please come here this minute, you will be a bad dog if you don't, now hurry up and come, aw please, Rover, be a good sport and come here. Look, here's a T-bone steak if you'll come here, Rover. That's a good dog."

We cannot make a dog shake hands, sit up, beg, bark on command, fetch a ball or a paper, sit down, or stand up. We cannot even make one of them go away on command. When we do not want them, they are always lying across our feet and when we want them they are a half mile away, intensely preoccupied with more important business.

But our ineptitude with dogs does not bother us. There is no mystery about it. We know we are not smart enough to train a dog. Moreover, we are not smart enough to care because we are not smart enough to train a dog. We are not smart enough to train a bird, a cat, a raccoon, a horse, or another human being, either.

We know our limitations. All we can do is live within them and with them, to the best of our own untrained ability. But we never have had a spaniel that barked all night. No sir. First time that happened, the spaniel was quieted by taking it into bed with the head trainer. That was seven years ago. There has been no barking problem since then. The spaniel still sleeps with the head trainer. And that's all we know about training dogs.

Marion County History Brevities

In 1881 three schoolhouses were erected in the county bringing the total number to 120, plus seven in separate districts. The value of school property in the townships was $62,630. All the township schoolhouses were regarded as primary. During the year 103 male teachers were employed and 136 females in the township; in the separate districts there were 14 male and 31 females in the primary and one of each sex in the high school. The total number of teachers employed during the year was 286. No township or district was reported as having less than 24 weeks of school within the year.

No Comfort for Stevenson in Texas

By Jay G. Hayden

The sweeping third - term victory of Gov. Allan Shivers in the Texas run-off primary means almost certainly that the Democrats in 1956 must find a presidential candidate more acceptable to the South than Adlai Stevenson or face another bolt in the pattern of 1948 and 1952.

Prime significance of the Texas voting is its proof that a southern politician can openly support a candidate running under the hated name "Republican" and still maintain his standing as a Democrat.

Always in the past, such outright southern bolters have been consigned to the limbo from which no politician returns. Outstanding examples were Sen. Furnifold Simmons of North Carolina and Sen. Tom Heflin of Alabama, overwhelmingly defeated for renomination after they supported Herbert Hoover for president against Al Smith in 1928.

Since 1948 the Dixiecrat team of J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, for president and Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi for vice president has been wholly in the discard, despite the fact they called themselves "true Democrats" and Harry Truman and Alben Barkley "usurpers."

In contrast, Shivers not only declared for Eisenhower directly but came back two years later to become the first third-term Democratic gubernatorial designate in Texas history.

EARLIER PRIMARIES this year encouraged the notion that the South this time, as in 1928 and 1948, was repentant. Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, attacked because they flirted with the Roosevelt - Truman type of Democrats in 1952, won renomination handsomely. In North Carolina, liberals triumphed for both gubernatorial and senatorial nomination.

However, in Virginia, the organization of Sen. Harry S Byrd, who came out squarely against Stevenson and Sparkman in 1952, nominated its state ticket easily. In Mississippi and Arkansas, Sen. James Eastland and Sen. John McClellan survived the accusation that they voted too often with Republicans.

Considering the southern voting as a whole, it is entirely safe to predict that it will neither change the pro-Republican trend of southern congressional voting nor diminish the determination of Democrats from that section to weed out radicalism from their party nationally.

Consider the Texas prospect. Even as a candidate for renomination in 1952, Gov. Shivers was hotly accused of being a Republican stooge. On the day following nomination of the Democratic presidential slate of Stevenson and Sparkman, Shivers was nominated for his second term. His vote then was 833,861 to 488,345 for Ralph Yarborough, the same man with whom he fought it out this year.

THE FIRST PRIMARY in Texas last July looked bad for Shivers. He squeaked through with a pluarality of 688,913 votes as against 645,994 for Yarborough and 36,320 for two also-rans. Based on the fact that no gubernatorial incumbent forced into a run-off previously had been nominated, hopes of the Democratic regulars rose appreciably.

But in the showdown last Saturday, the Shivers vote rose to 773,690, more than 100,000 above his previous total, whereas Yarborough's 681,284 represented a gain of less than 36,000.

The rise in Shivers' vote was all the more significant in that it came mainly from large cities, which piled up the lead for Eisenhower in 1952 but voted lightly in the first primary this year seemingly on the assumption that Shivers had a walkaway. The final vote was the largest ever cast in a Texas primary and larger than in any final election, excepting 1952, when Eisenhower rolled up 1,102,878, as against 969,228 for Stevenson.

Looking to 1956, Shivers' most formidable rival may be another Texan, Sen Lyndon Johnson, an easy victor for renomination in the first Texas primary.

In home politics, Johnson and Shivers have taken pains not to offend each other, but nationally their attitude has been different.

In the 1952 Democratic embroglio, Johnson sat firmly on the fence—so much so that he was accepted by senators from north and south alike for minority floor leadership of the Senate. In that job, he has continued to stand mainly in the middle between divergent Democratic elements.

OF THREE OTHER far-south Democratic floor leaders in the Senate over the past half century, Oscar Underwood of Alabama was a prominent candidate for presidential nomination in 1924, Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas was the vice-presidential running mate of Al Smith in 1928, and John N. Garner of Texas served eight years as vice president.

Johnson works hand in glove with Democratic senators along the southern borders, such as Stuart Symington of Missouri, Earle Clements of Kentucky and Clinton Anderson of New Mexico.

If the Democratic search in 1956 is for a ticket that will return the South, especially Texas, to its traditional fold, Johnson is a natural for vice president, or even perhaps for top place.

Also, it could be that in another two years Gov. Shivers will have moved far enough toward the GOP camp to become a vice-presidential running mate with Dwight Eisenhower or whoever else may be the next Republican presidential nominee.

Power of the Pen—Gone

By MARK DANA

This editorial column suggests at least a side glance at what may or may not be handwriting on a wall, with a Minneapolis company much distressed because in this age of machines and electronics people are neglecting penmanship.

This firm's training director tries to make sure that every employe can write legibly with pen and pencil, and perhaps mourns the on-rush of so many typing, duplicating, computing recording, dictating, transcribing and other apparatus.

It could be conceded that the lovely Spencerian penmanship of grandfather's day has simply faded from ornate stationery. Maybe this is just cause for lament. Maybe we can, and should just take it in stride. The horse has lost out to the car, truck and tractor, but tearful poetry can't stay that transition. Lots of other signs of yesteryear's times are no more. The old-time railroad depot copying-press, using indelible ink and flimsy paper, went to a museum. So did the hooks for men's shoe lacings, and Pop's mustache cup — also his mustache.

Yet what if school children still spent long hours daily mastering the Palmer System of ornate penmanship, a "muscular movement" system which can produce beautiful engravers' script if desk, seat, paper and all other things are just right?

One can hope that every employe of the Minneapolis company and officer writes wonderfully, and can weep over chicken-track writing noted day by day (particularly signatures of new executives). Also, if anybody so requests, one can express sorrow that the typewriter was ever invented, or that accountants don't tote up long columns by hand.

Come to think about it, there are plenty of 20th century changes which call for tears. Maybe everybody should take a week off some time and mourn the olden days — then sit down to an electric typewriter and dash off (legibly) a welcome to the newer days.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A GI Note to Mr. Attlee

Dear Clement:

You have been too deep in the Red Chinese cocktail parties, birds-nest soup and bamboo shoots, I guess, to think of including Old Baldy, Heartbreak Ridge, the ruins of South Korea, the road to Pusan or the shattered Korean homes full of blinded and crippled Korean infants. I don't see any reference to such visits on your Asiatic good-will jaunt. I read of plenty of toasts in champagne between you and the Red Chinese chiefs who sent their forces in to kill thousands of G.I.'s and British Tommies, but I note no reference to the kids who died for the free world, with or without lotus roots.

"I bring to you Mr. Chou En-lai, and will take back from you a message of peace and friendship between the people of China and Britain," you said in your final Peiping champagne session.

I can't figure out any two-dozen words that could so flatten the morale of servicemen everywhere, leave G.I.'s groggier or stagger the U.N. more.

What do those lotus roots do to you, Clem?

It seems Mao and Chou En-lai gave the British delegation an all-out smile and swapped toasts to this good will, bowing and beaming in the mood of love and kisses. What gets me is that you didn't vomit. Hadn't you heard about the Red Chinese atrocities, the Panmunjom run-arounds, the bayoneting of kids as they tried to surrender, the thousands of missing prisoners of whom the Reds will give no accounting, the Red stockades, and the brainwashings?

Hadn't any of your seven British companions heard of Gen. Dean? Is it a secret to you that the Red Chinese made G.I.'s live in shacks the size of doghouses, sleep standing up and that they either died or came out as skeletons? So you bring and accept messages of friendship and peace! How good-willish can you get?

I am just a G.I. who got sent to Korea, never got close to champagne in my two years there and was never sent into action on those icy hills with the words, "no matter what happens to you, it's all good will. Those things that drop all around you in the clobbering are just messages of peace and friendship. You won't need ammunition. Just lotus roots!" Consequently I can't dig your "jolly good fellow" routine. I am all for peace and no more war. But can't we get it without the hogwash, hypocracy, mutual bowing and scraping and all the wine, cocktails and male-necking?

Yours faithfully,
G.I. Joe

State To Step Up Campaign Against Incompetent Drivers

Drivers planning Labor Day trips this weekend were issued a warning today by U C Felty, director of the Ohio department of highway safety

He said he hoped every motorist would drive carefully and courteously, but declared that "I am asking all police departments and that state highway patrol to seek out those who refuse to obey laws and drive carefully"

38 Killed Last Year

Last year 38 persons were killed on Ohio highways over the Labor Day weekend On the weekend following the holiday last year another 38 were killed

Felty blamed this toll partly on incompetent drivers "One of the most effective means of eliminating these drivers from the streets and highways is through the recently broadened use of a special incompetent driver form," he said

Last April, the regulations were strengthened and at the same time the safety department asked all law enforcement agencies to cite drivers they believed incompetent Prior to this time, only the state patrol used the form

"City police sheriffs and the state patrol in less than five months cited 1 927 Ohioans as incompetent drivers" Felty noted

No Letup in Drive

Felty promised there would be no letup in the campaign to remove irresponsible drivers and habitual violators from the highways

Past experience is that about 70 per cent of the nearly 2,000 persons already cited will lose their driving rights permanently, Felty said.

"This is a big step in making highways safer but we feel it is only scratching the surface and we intend to continue the campaign until all incompetent drivers are denied the right to operate a motor vehicle in Ohio," Felty said
